MONTREAL, Que., June 7.—Denunciation of Bolshevism, profecting the action of the United States government in invoking the food control law against the lake miners' strike, and the failure of the American congress to take action to control the cost of living are among the outstanding features of the annual report of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor presented today to the annual convention here.

GRADUATION EXERCISES AT ROGERS HALL

The 1920 commencement exercises at Rogers Hall school really began today, inasmuch as the rainy weather of Saturday caused a general postponement of all events incident to the graduation of this year's class. The annual music in the gymnasium at 4 o'clock this afternoon will be followed at 8 p. m. by the presentation outdoors, if fair of Shakespeare's "As You Like It." If the weather is not fair, the gymnasium will be used. Among the character is Rosalind, daughter of the banished duke, to be played by Miss Sonia Borg of this city.

Graduation will take place tomorrow forenoon at 10 o'clock, with Capt. Adre Morize of Harvard university as the speaker. The alumnae luncheon, with the graduates as guests, comes at 12 o'clock, noon.

MISS CATHERINE KELLY (IN CENTRE) AND GROUP OF CAMP FIRE GIRLS AS INDIAN MAIDENS IN THE SUN DANCE

At 6 o'clock this evening, just as late afternoon shadows stretch across the lowlands of the South common, history will turn back its yellow-lined pages 300 years and there will step therefrom Indian and Colonist, to meet again in parley on almost the identical spot Passaconaway and John Elliot first smoked the peace pipe and firmly established relations of lasting friendship.

Then, in rapid sequence, the events of later years will unfold as 1300 Lowell men, women and children participate in the first historical pageant of any magnitude ever given in the city, and in preparation of which at least three months have been consumed.

Regrettable indeed was the fact that the weather was not of the truest summer variety. A 48-hour postponement was necessary because of Saturday's rain storm and while the committee in charge gladly would have proceceeded further, it did not seem advisable to gamble any heavier on the weather man's behavior or to run a chance of wanting public interest.

Never before has Lowell's early history been portrayed through pageantry to such an extent. By a prologue and five episodes, events which heretofore have been visualized only as seen on the written pages of history, will assume human and living form as characters true to fact and legend will walk upon the great outdoors stage that the common so adequately affords. Thousands will line the common slopes to watch Passaconaway, Wannalandit, Indian braves and maidens, Preacher Elliot and his men; the peace party, the snake dance and the dance of the sun; the conversion of Wannalandit and the portrayal of other historical facts in connection with Indian days. Colonial and Revolutionary days will

PRES. GOMPERS REPLIES

Says Public Has No Right Superior to Toilers' Right to Fight Oppression

WASHINGTON, June 7. (By the Associated Press).—The public has no right to live and to his right to defend himself against oppression, Samuel Gompers declared in his replies to three questions asked him by Governor Allen of Kansas in their debate at New York, May 25. Mr. Gompers' replies were made public last night by the American Federation of Labor.

Gov. Allen asked whether the "public" has any rights in strike affecting the production or distribution of the necessities of life, thus threatening the public peace and impairing the public health, and if so how would Mr. Gompers protect those rights. He also asked who controlled the "divine right" of employees to quit work.

Declaring that union men and women formed one-fourth of the public, Mr. Gompers said in such strikes as described by Gov. Allen "the public, including union men, has rights and the striking union is the first to recognize those rights."

He argued, however, that few strikes actually threatened the public peace, and "fewer become a menace to the public health."

"Strikes in which the public peace has been threatened," he said, "usually have been strikes in which the employers or public officials influenced by employers have created the breach of peace by the use of thugs, armed guards and detectives."

"Labor," continued Mr. Gompers, "has no desire to cause inconvenience to the public, of which it is a part."

"The right to strike must be and will be maintained, not only as a measure of self defense and self advancement, but as a measure necessary to public progress. The strike has won its right to a post of honor among the institutions of free civilization and the temporary inconvenience it has caused is but a small price to pay for the permanent benefits it has brought."

As to Gov. Allen's question regarding who controls the "divine right" to order employees to strike, Mr. Gompers said strikes were "ordered by the majority vote of union members; they are not ordered by officials at will."

Canada's present sugar consumption is estimated to be at the rate of 110 pounds per capita annually, and this amount is continually increasing.

WOMEN TO PICKET THE

G. O. P. CONVENTION

CHICAGO, June 7.—Politically impressive picketing of the republican national convention was decided upon yesterday by shock troops of the national women's party here under the leadership of Alice Paul.

The picketing will start Tuesday morning and continue indefinitely. More than 100 women, representing 22 states and every phase of women's activities are carrying banners bearing the names of their states and slogans, and will occupy positions outside the coliseum. Other women will work among delegates from their states. In the various state headquarters. Verbal heckling has no place on the program.

Every effort of the suffragists, Miss Paul said yesterday, will be directed toward inducing national leaders to urge the governors of Connecticut and Vermont to call special sessions of the legislatures in those states and pass on suffrage. The legislatures, Miss Paul insisted, are ready to ratify the suffrage amendment if the governors will call the special sessions. None of the suffragists is paying any attention at present to the wording of the proposed suffrage plank in the convention platform.

The suffrage pioneers, Rev. Olympia Brown of Wisconsin and Mrs. Ann Kendall of Alabama, both over 70 years old, will hold the picket line. Their banner will be inscribed with the words: "How Long Must Women Wait for Liberty?" The principal banners to be carried bear the following: "We protest against the continued disfranchisement of women for which the republican party has become responsible."

"The republican party defeated ratification in Delaware."

"The republican party is blocking ratification in Connecticut."

"When will the republican party stop blocking suffrage?"

Leaders said yesterday that they expected no interference from the Chicago police. They have not sought permission to picket but they smilingly declare that Chief Garrity is a suffragist even though he is a bachelor.

Should the republicans take the necessary steps to secure ratification by either Connecticut or Vermont as a result of pressure from these candidates, no picketing of the convention will be necessary, it was announced.

COMMUNISTS WEAK IN

GERMAN ELECTIONS

BERLIN, June 7.—Unofficial and incomplete returns from the election held yesterday throughout Germany to choose the first republican reichstag indicate unexpected strength by the independent socialists and surprising weakness on the part of the communists. Only in Hanover did the majority socialists poll the number of votes the importance of that organization seemed to foreshadow. In Hamburg, Leipzig, Bremen, Munich and Erfurt, the present dominant political organization ran far behind.

Eleven thousand communist ballots were cast in Munich, that city being the only large place reported up until midnight as having shown any real power by the followers of Lenin and Trotsky. No communist votes were shown in the canvass of the votes in Hamburg and Leipzig.

BERLIN, June 7.—Prince and Princess Eitel Friedrich and Prince Joachim, members of the family of former Emperor William, recorded their votes at Potsdam during yesterday's elections.

LOWELL COMPANY WINS RIFLE SHOOT

A good share of the honors of the shoot of the companies of the 11th regiment of infantry, M.S.G., at the South armory in Boston, Saturday afternoon, were won by Company C of Lowell, under the command of Captain Loring R. Kew. The company won the rifle shoot with a lead of 18 points over its nearest competitor, Company I of Lawrence.

The cup for the highest score was won by Captain Frye of Framingham, who defeated Lieut. Warren Wildman and Sergeant Kershaw of Company C by one point in a tie shoot-off. In the competitive drill for non-commissioned officers, Sergeant John Kershaw and Sergeant William Foster, both of Company C, won first and second places. In the competitive drill for men in the ranks, Private Gunning of Company K took first place, with Private Walter Draper of Company C, second. Five out of the nine trophies awarded came to the Lowell boys.

LICENSE TO OPERATE MACHINE REVOKED

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, June 7.—Wilfred L. Pigeon of Lowell, who on May 13 was found guilty in the police court of that city of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor stronger than one-half of one per cent, has been notified by the registry division of the department of public works that it has revoked his license to operate a machine. Pigeon has had the license only since March 27.

Three other licensees also have been notified that their permits have been taken from them temporarily. They are Henry Siddley, Oscar P. Cognac and Manuel Joaquim, all of Lowell. Siddley was involved in an accident May 15 last, which resulted in the death of Annie Harrington of East Chelmsford. His license was issued March 22 of this year. Cognac was put under the temporary ban because he allowed a minor to operate his machine, while Joaquim was declared to be a person not fit to operate a motor vehicle. His license was issued a few months ago, while that of Cognac was dated August, 1919.

MASS MEETING THIS EVENING

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Polish bond drive, which was held last evening at the Polish club in Coburn street, plans were formulated for a mass meeting to be held this evening, in the assembly hall of the club, in the interest of the drive. It is expected there will be a large attendance, as some of the national officers are scheduled to be present.

The drive has been very successful so far. Over $15,000 has been collected in cash, while contributions far in excess of that amount have been pledged. It is expected that within a few days, arrangements will be completed by which some local banks will handle partial payments on bonds. The committee is also endeavoring to have next Sunday proclaimed by the state and city as Polish day, as such action was recently taken in New York according to the following telegram received by Jacob Targ, secretary of the local committee, from national headquarters: "A proclamation was issued by Gov. Smith of New York, calling upon all cities to observe June 13 as Polish day to the end that the proposed bond issue of the Polish nation may be successful. Let us show our appreciation of the governor's action by our increased endeavors to make the loan an overwhelming success."

through our kitchen ceiling."

Nick wasn't sure, but he thought he saw Wally wink at Mrs. Woodchuck, and could it be that Mrs. Woodchuck winked back at him? But of course he wasn't exactly sure.

Tingaling, who was looking around a bit, had decided on something in the meantime. As he owned the house he knew all about it, so he told Nick to sit where he could watch one hallway, and Nancy where she could watch the other, and he sent the Magical Mushroom outside to watch the kitchen door. Then he sat down near the front hallway himself.

"Why, yes, thank you," he said then sitting down with a jingle. "I'd like very much to have some tea."

MAN SHOT DEAD DURING BURGLARY OF STORE

BOSTON, June 7.—Six hours after Salvatore Miceli shot at four men, who he says he took for accomplices of a burglar in his grocery store, 33 George street, Roxbury, early yesterday morning, the dead body of Frederick M. Doherty, 23 years old, of 179 Norfolk avenue, Roxbury, was found face downward a short distance behind the store with a revolver bullet through the right lung.

Miceli told Capt. Perley S. Skillings at the Dudley street police station, that he lives with his wife and six children in an apartment over his store. He locked the store at 11:30 Saturday night and went upstairs.

Nearly an hour later, while he stood in a chair, his wife thought she heard a noise in the store.

He went downstairs, a revolver in his hand, and peered through the store window. Seeing a man behind the counter, he moved around toward the rear of the store and, turning the corner, confronted four men. Taking them for accomplices of the intruder, he ordered them to throw up their hands and fired a shot in the air to scare them. A tonic bottle hurled at his head was his answer.

The bottle cut an ugly gash in the grocer's forehead, and he fired again, this time to hit. The men, he says, fled in various directions, and an outcry from one told him he had not missed.

He reported the incident to the Dudley street station, and an investigation of the premises was made. This showed that glass in the rear door and the front transom was broken and $5 in cash was missing.

The body of Doherty, however, remained unnoticed. The police decided the break in the back door was the hole made by the burglar as he escaped during the shooting outside.

Miceli was charged with manslaughter and released on $2000 bail to appear in the Roxbury court this morning. He identified the body of Doherty as the man who threw the bottle.

The body was found by Patrick Burns of 46 Woodward avenue, and Joseph G. Murphy of 120 George street, and was taken first to the city hospital, where death was declared to have occurred soon after the shot took effect, and then to the southern district mortuary. Medical Examiner Leary performed the autopsy.

It was not until noon that the body was identified by a brother of the dead man. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Doherty, was 23 and served in the 36th Infantry during the war.

Capt. Skillings assigned seven men to the case. The only information that tended to throw any light on it, however, came from a man who went to the station house and volunteered the information that he was with Doherty at 1 o'clock, drinking ginger ale and Jamaica ginger, in the passageway between the grocery store and a fence in the rear.

He declared neither he nor the dead man had anything to do with the alleged burglary. When Miceli came out and fired the first shot, both ran and he did not see Doherty again.

WANTED IN MAINE

Late Saturday, Lieut. Martin Maher and Sergt. Dwyer arrested Lorenzo M. Starbird on a warrant issued in Augusta, Me. The warrant charges him with the theft of a suit case and some clothing from a man in that city. At first, Starbird expressed a desire to fight extradition and the police were considering to hold him as a fugitive from justice, but later he decided to return to Augusta.

News of the Churches

The local Catholic churches observed the feast of Corpus Christi yesterday with the usual elaborate services including a solemn high mass, processions about the aisles and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. At St. Patrick's church an outdoor observance had been planned, but owing to the unfavorable weather, the exercises were held indoors.

The feast of the Sacred Heart will be observed in all the churches next Friday as a day of devotion. Confessions will be heard Thursday and there will be special masses on Friday.

St. Patrick's

Solemn vespers at 7:30 o'clock preceded the annual procession in observance of the feast of Corpus Christi at St. Patrick's church yesterday. Preparations had been made for an outdoor observance but, unfortunately, the weather made this impossible and the procession was restricted to the aisles of the church. In the procession were altar boys, members of the Infant Jesus sodality, the Holy Angels sodality, Sacred Heart sodality, Junior branch of the Holy Name society, Children of Mary sodality, Immaculate Conception sodality, Holy Family sodality, sanctuary choir, flower girls and the officiating clergymen. During the procession the church choir, under the direction of Michael J. Johnson, and the sanctuary choir directed by Brother Niles, alternated in singing the "Pange Lingua." A triduum will be opened at this church next Wednesday and will close on Friday.

St. Peter's

Rev. Peter T. Linnahan celebrated the solemn high mass at St. Peter's church yesterday in connection with the observance of the feast of Corpus Christi. Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan, assisted as deacon and Rev. Francis L. Shea as sub-deacon. The pastor, Rev. Daniel J. Keleher, Ph. D., preached the sermon. Following the mass the usual procession was held about the aisles of the church with the officiating clergymen, altar boys and children of the parish participating. Confessions will be heard next Thursday evening only in preparation for the feast of the Sacred Heart on Friday. Masses on that day will be at 5 and 7.

Immaculate Conception

Members of the Holy Rosary sodality received communion at the 5 o'clock mass at the Immaculate Conception church yesterday. The high mass at 11 o'clock was celebrated by Rev. J. B. McCarlin, O.M.I., and he was assisted by Rev. Dennis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., as deacon and Rev. Owen P. McQuaid, O.M.I., as sub-deacon. Rev. Lawrence F.

Tighe, O.M.I., the pastor, made the announcements. At 6:30 last evening the usual Corpus Christi procession was held with members of the clergy, altar boys and members of the various parish societies taking part. A 40 hours devotion will be opened at this church with a solemn high mass at 8 o'clock Friday and will be brought to a close at the late mass Sunday.

Sacred Heart

Following a solemn high mass at the Sacred Heart church at 11 o'clock yesterday the usual Corpus Christi procession was held about the aisles with the clergymen officiating at the mass, altar boys and members of the sanctuary choir taking part. The services were largely attended. At the 7:30 o'clock mass members of the Holy Rosary sodality received communion. Next Friday a 40 hours devotion will be opened at 9 o'clock with a solemn high mass and will come to a close at the late mass Sunday. Masses on Friday will be at 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 o'clock. There will be a sermon on the Sacred Heart Friday evening.

St. Michael's

Rev. Thomas J. Heagney celebrated the parish mass at St. Michael's church yesterday and he was assisted by Rev. John J. Shaw, the pastor, as deacon, and Rev. James F. Lynch as sub-deacon. Rev. Francis J. Mullin was master of ceremonies and Rev. Fr. Lynch preached the sermon. Following the mass a procession was held about the aisles of the church with the officiating clergymen, altar boys and members of the sanctuary choir participating. The feast of the Sacred Heart will be observed on Friday. Masses will be at 5:15 and 7 o'clock. Confessions will be heard Thursday evening only. Attention is called to the fact that there will be no confessions heard Thursday afternoon.

St. Margaret's

At the 7:30 o'clock mass at St. Margaret's church yesterday members of the Women's sodality received communion in a body. Rev. Charles J. Galligan, the pastor, was the celebrant. Rev. Stephen Murray sang the high mass. Confessions will be heard Thursday afternoon and evening and on Friday, the feast of the Sacred Heart, mass will be celebrated at 7:30.

St. Columba's

Rev. James F. Somers sang the late mass at St. Columba's church yesterday and the pastor, Rev. Patrick J. Hall, celebrated the early masses of the day. Members of the Women's sodality received communion at the 7:30 o'clock mass.

St. Chelmsford Church

At the 5:30 o'clock mass at St. John's church, North Chelmsford yesterday morning 50 boys and girls received their first communion. The celebrant of the mass was Rev. Fr. Linnahan and during the service appropriate hymns were sung by the children's choir, under the direction of the Sisters of Notre Dame, who are in charge of the Sunday school at the church.

Extreme State of Weakness

It was at that time that someone advised me to try RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women. As soon as I had taken the first few boxes I felt much better, as I was gradually getting stronger and regaining my health. After taking them for two months, very regularly, I was rewarded by a complete recovery. Therefore I am happy to be able to recommend these Pills, which have meant so much to me.

A few years ago I underwent an operation, which left me extremely weak and caused me great worry.

Women Designed It!

How should an electric iron be made to best fit women's needs? This is a question that none can answer better than women. That's why in producing this brand new six and one-half pound iron, Westinghouse enlisted the aid of women.

Women suggested a plug that can be easily removed, yet never slips out. Women proposed that the edge of the iron should be beveled, the better to look down on the work. Women determined the shape and the finish.

You'll find the new Westinghouse Electric Iron on sale wherever you see a Westinghouse name or trademark in the window.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Musically, deliberately, calmly Clayton the Mystic, a quoted East Indian crystal gazer, will pick up little cards at the B. F. Keith theatre this week, beginning today, and will see beyond them into the past and into the future. Clayton will give to all comers the opportunity to test out his phenomenal powers of seeing. Ask him anything, for the chances are that he will be perfectly able to answer the question satisfactorily. There is one feature of his work which is noteworthy. He never ruffles, never offends, never plays with one's troubles or worries. If answers that are unpleasant must be given he will put them in such a way that will mean soothing the harassed person. Clayton is a real East Indian who decided that his name in his native tongue was wholly unpronounceable by Occidentals. He was intimately connected with Prof. George Clayton, the eminent Oxford and Cambridge scientist, and when the latter lost his life on a vessel which was torpedoed in the Mediterranean, this East Indian took it. His first name, Henri, is derived from Henri Clemenceau, a brother of the French Tiger who was formerly premier of France. Clayton has studied for years at the occult sciences, and today he stands unrivalled as a public exponent of crystal gazing. He is tall and straight, rather taciturn of countenance, and quietly business-like in his work. There are no idle passes for the more killing of time. He settles down to the business in hand, concentrating on his subjects, and then proceeds to answer questions. Once in a while a humorous strain will appear, and this is given in its natural medium. For the greater part, however, all is quietly serious.

Six other good acts on this bill will give to everybody his fill of real entertainment for the last week of the season. "Sweet" Gallagher and Irene Martin will appear in their lively musical comedy episode. These two dance and sing and play most enterprisingly. Gallagher was formerly with "Little Miss Fix-It," and "The Rose Maid," while Irene Martin was one of the dainty dancers in Gus Edwards' Song Revue.

Harry Bensee and Florence Baird are not unknown through their "Fackles," Scottish mixture noted "Songstage," and it is said that they have added a lot to their act since they were last here.

"Our wife" is the little comedy which Harry Austin Bond & Co. will present. It is a plain, laugh-studded little piece which is very true after all. First rate banjoists are Charles Howard and Kitty Rose, and Renn and Cavanaugh are singing and dancing performers. A former Lowell resident, Rekoma, will do some surprisingly difficult equilibrist stunts.

brims. His real name is Michael Chlaskosky. In addition there will be the Kingdams, Topics of the Day and a scenic picture.

THE OWL THEATRE

Today marks the opening performance of "The Idol Dancer," the Griffith master picture that has caught the world-wide eye everywhere. Lowell can see it all this week at the Owl theatre at the usual moderate Owl theatre prices, while other cities are obliged to pay more for it. This policy is the result of the good business management of the Liberty Amusement Company with a chain of theatres running from Fall River to Newburyport and all points between, including Lowell. The Liberty company is in the open market, and is out for the best. With its long chain of theatres, which means a continuous run for a picture, they are able to get them. First National pictures are recognized by many as the best in the market today, and the Liberty company, which means the Owl theatre, has them. "The Idol Dancer" will remain all week, and while the dance scenes are going on, no one will be seated. This is so as not to disturb those already seated, for the dance is really entralling. Critics describe Clara Seymour in this part as half French, half Japanese, and the rest shimmies. Her Devil-dance has been the talk of the movie world. In the picture, also, Richard Barthelmess as the beach comber and Creighton Hale as the Puritan youth do great work. The usual generous bill of added attractions will also be given, and while the added attractions will play out Thursday, the big feature will play out the week.

Photo-play fans who recall the luxurious beauty of Gloria Swanson in "Male and Female" will hardly recognize her in the opening scenes of the new Cecil B. de Mille production, "Why Change Your Wife?" which opened a week's engagement at the Merrimack Square theatre this afternoon. Miss Swanson has the role of a too-wifely wife, who neglects her beauty for her home, wears unbecoming clothes and can't keep her husband home at night. Later, however, after friend husband, played by the likable Thomas Meighan, has wandered off with a designing girl, she realizes what has lost him and blooms forth into a bewitching woman. "Why Change Your Wife?" is an excellent story excellently produced. Mr. and Mrs. Carter de Haven in "Sealing Charters," the International News, a comedy and a Charter Outing picture round out the bill. Have you entered the Merrimack Square essay contest yet? EXAMINATION FOR RURAL CARRIER

The United States civil service commission has announced an examination for the county of Middlesex to be held at Ayer, Lowell, Concord Junction and Framingham, on June 16, to fill the position of rural carrier at Westford, and vacancies that may later occur on rural routes from other postoffices in the above mentioned counties. The examination will be open only to citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of a postoffice in the county and who meet the other requirements set forth in form number 1571. Both men and women, if qualified, may enter this examination, but appointing officers have the legal right to specify the sex desired in requesting certification of eligibles. Women will not be considered for rural carrier appointment unless they are the widows of United States soldiers, sailors or marines, or the wives of United States soldiers, sailors or marines who are physically disqualified for examination by reason of injuries received in the line of military duty.

BRITISH WARSHIPS FIRE ON TURK NATIONALISTS

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—British warships opened fire on nationalist positions near Toulou, on the Sea of Marmora, 25 miles west of Ismid, late Friday night. Constantinople was aroused by the heavy firing of the guns of the British warships. The nationalists had approached close to the British entrenchments along the Gulf of Ismid, where many British units are stationed to protect the troops guarding the railway.

The collapse of the sultan's troops leaves the British alone to defend the railway terminals opposite Constantinople. Many Armenian and Greek refugees have entered Ismid after escaping from the nationalists.

Turks Take French Prisoners

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—It is reported that the Turks captured Bizanti, north of Adana, on May 30, taking prisoner a large number of French.

The Turks are now free to turn their entire strength in that area against Adana, Tarsus and Mersina, but say they do not want to take these towns lest they incur the ill-will of the British and Americans.

Italian Battalion Annihilated

LONDON, June 7.—Albanian insurgents have annihilated an Italian battalion near Alessio, and Italian warships have shelled that city, according to a Vienna despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. quoting a report from Belgrade. Other shirmishes are said to have occurred near Scutari and Avlona, where the Italians have been forced to retreat.

14 KILLED, 100 INJURED BY EXPLOSION

LONDON, June 7.—Fourteen persons were killed, several others were injured and many buildings destroyed by the explosion of 50 carloads of explosives in a suburban station of Turin Saturday night, according to Rome dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company.

A despatch to the Central News says that the explosion occurred in Fort Pampalu at Montecenis, northwest of Turin. Beside the 14 persons killed, 100 were injured the despatch adds.

Direct losses due to strikes in 1919 are placed at $725,000,000 to labor in wages, and $1250,000,000 to industry.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

The inadequacy of railroad transportation offers a strong argument in favor of a navigable waterway to the sea, which, let us hope, will be realized at some future day.

It would seem that the prison authorities of the state might devise ventilators to afford ample change of air without offering prisoners a means of escape. Finnegan is out again and no one knows just when he'll be in again.

It is to be hoped that some benefit will come to New England from that resolution for investigation of the bituminous coal supply brought forward by Senator Walsh. The interstate commerce commission is authorized to investigate the conditions of production and transportation in order to ascertain the cause of the shortage with a view to having it removed.

FREIGHT PROBLEMS

Shortage of railroad cars is one of the chief difficulties with which the roads and the country have to contend. Companies are unwilling to send out cars to a great distance, feeling that they will not be promptly returned. It is charged that some companies hold the cars of other companies for service for a few days or a week after being emptied; and this delay is a source of expense to the company to which the cars belong.

Under such a state of affairs, it would seem that a traffic bureau such as is proposed by the local chamber of commerce with a practical railroad man in charge could accomplish much in the direction of overcoming delayed deliveries due to congestion resulting from mismanagement or lack of proper shipping facilities.

IN A NEW FIELD

To Miss Dorothy Maria Burbeck belongs the honor of being the first young woman to graduate from the Lowell Textile school with a degree. She also won a first prize for her thesis in the largest class—numbering 282 persons—that has ever left the school.

Miss Burbeck's selection of a field in which to work may be the forerunner of the entrance of others of her sex into the higher-paid positions in the textile industry. In the past, women in the mills have been employed mostly in the offices or at occupations that called for only a small amount of technical training. In the positions they have filled they have proved themselves capable and efficient workers.

If Massachusetts is to retain its lead in the manufacture of fabrics it must be largely as a result of the trained hands and brains that are engaged in the work. There is no good reason why women should not supply both of these. They have won places of the highest responsibility for themselves in other branches of industry, why not in the mills?

WORK OF RENT SHARKS

That was a very sad case in which a mother in Dorchester killed herself and three children by asphyxiation because she had been ordered from the tenement she occupied and could find none to which she could move. Unfortunately she became despondent and decided to end it all.

While suicide can never be excused this case should, nevertheless, direct attention to the untenability of the housing conditions generally. Similar situations may arise in this city where rent profiteers attempt to impose upon people who have no protection.

It is time the authorities in every city adopted some means of helping such families when threatened with being thrown on the street. In the case referred to, the family had held the house under a mortgage which was foreclosed and they lost it. In cases where tenement property is sold over and over again many times, the rent being increased each time, the occupants are simply coerced into payment of rents which are altogether too high. There should be some law to apply to such profiteers. Any case of the kind found in this city should be reported to Mayor Thompson.

There is much life insurance being bought now than in 1918, the total in the United States being more than $11,000,000,000.

G. O. P. CONVENTION

"Badly demoralized" is the only phrase that properly fits the republicans entering the convention at Chicago. If harmony can be evolved from such a discordant aggregation, the leaders will have accomplished a wonderful feat. Wood and Lowden enter the convention tarred with the dollar mark and Hiram Johnson is there as the leading dyed-in-the-wool American. Penrose, the great operator of the steam roller, is not there, but he will endeavor to have his lieutenants run the machine in his absence.

Ex-Senator Crane of this state will use his influence for Wood, at least until he sees that candidate's chances vanishing; and then he can be relied upon to have a leading part in selecting one of the dark horses as the nominee.

The great thorn in the side of the convention is Hiram Johnson whose popularity cannot be overlooked. Hiram may bolt his party if the leaders attempt to rout him and his followers by steam roller methods. He is a fearless warrior and it is safe to predict that he will fight to the last ditch not only on the League of Nations, but upon other issues on which he has taken a decided stand.

The Sun will be well covered on convention news not only by The Associated Press, but by special correspondents of the Newspaper Enterprise association, all men of the most varied experience in such national gatherings.

PREVENTABLE FIRES

With the great scarcity of timber and the high price of lumber and wood pulp, there is more reason than ever to guard against forest fires.

With the approach of hot weather, it is in order to caution children and others to be more careful than ever not to start fires in woods which are liable to spread and do immense damage.

Already American forests are fast disappearing and although appeals are made to the public, very little is done to bring about reforestation. Fully one-third of all the fires in dwellings are strictly preventable, another third is partly preventable and of the remaining third, the cause is unknown.

In case of forest fires, the vast majority are preventable; and the main causes are sparks from locomotives, fires started by boys and campers or hunters for amusement, or through the careless habit of throwing down lighted matches, cigar stubs and cigarettes.

The destruction of forests annually in this country reaches alarming proportions. It is estimated that the total fire loss on dwellings in this country in 1918 was $84,150,474, the chief causes of which were defective chimneys and flues, stores, furnaces and stoves, or their pipes, electric wires, exposure to conflagrations and lightning. Arson is another cause of fires but not frequent in Lowell. Its chief nature is revenge or an effort to get money from insurance companies. Those who resort to this scheme are sometimes caught in ways which they never suspected. Everywhere there is need of the utmost precaution against fires. We have far too few homes now and the destruction of any of them by fire would be a very serious matter.

THE DIVORCE EVIL

Preachers have thundered denunciations of the divorce evil. Many organizations have passed resolutions condemning it. Statisticians say that about every tenth marriage in this country ends in a petition to a court for the surrender of the marriage tie. Yet there is no reliable evidence that divorces are growing less frequent.

During the last two weeks the superior court, sitting in Lowell, has been engaged in granting divorces during the several hours each day that it has been in session. One judge has been engaged in hearing the cases all the time, and another part of the time. The divorces have gone through with regularity and despatch at the rate possibly of one every fifteen or twenty minutes. Some of the hearings have been so brief that it has seemed to spectators that they had scarcely begun before they were ended.

The courts are not to be blamed for the ease and speed with which the divorce machinery of the commonwealth operates. The judges are bound to act in accordance with the laws as they find them on the statute books. They cannot well act contrary to the testimony of sworn witnesses even if they realize that strong self-interest, prejudice and relationship or close friendship for the parties in interest color if they do not actually distort and misrepresent facts.

Both of the judges who have been trying divorce cases in Lowell have shown an earnest desire to get at the real facts in each case as far as possible and to protect the interests of society as a whole by seeing that the provisions of law are justly applied.

This is very far, however, from remedying or even minimizing the evil. For a remedy to be effective, we must undoubtedly look first to an aroused public sentiment which will regard the light of promiscuous divorces in the light in which they should be viewed as a menace to the standards of morality and decency upon which our whole social structure rests.

Until such an aroused public sentiment exists, it might be well for the people of Massachusetts to consider the possible adoption of a method that has proved successful in other states in abolishing some of the most glaring faults connected with the present system of granting divorces.

This method involves the employment of an official who shall appear in the public interest to contest all petitions for divorce which otherwise would be uncontested, provided that after a thorough investigation, he believes there are sufficient and proper grounds for such a contest.

This would do away with the collusion which, it is believed, now exists with more or less frequency between the parties in divorce actions and would go far towards putting an end to the granting of divorces on ex parte testimony. If it offers a means of minimizing the divorce evil, it should certainly be adopted.

ENGLAND AND RUSSIA

Gregory Krassin, minister of the Russian soviet government, is in London with a view to getting the blockade lifted and trade resumed with the allies. Premier Lloyd George wants "certain guarantees" and for a private understanding on points involving British interests, he is to confer with the Bolshevik diplomat.

France is utterly opposed to any plan of lifting the blockade against the Bolsheviks as any such step will add to their powers of making war on Poland and other states on the western frontier of Russia.

But the most remarkable and most despicable feature of these negotiations so far as England is concerned is that this soviet minister goes first to London to hold secret conference with the British premier and offer certain guarantees in lieu of England's aid in securing for Russia an opportunity to resume trade relations with other European nations.

When Lloyd George has made his arrangements with the soviet representative, he will then call a session of the allied council and plead with that body, which he largely dominates, to negotiate with the representative of Trotsky and Lenin. What guarantees are wanted by the British premier may be judged by a recent London despatch which said:

"Replying to a flood of insistent queries in parliament, the premier said there were certain questions Great Britain wanted cleared out of the way before it would undertake negotiations at all. Russia must guarantee that there will be no attacks on British interests in the east or at home while negotiations are proceeding. Mr. Lloyd George declared, and must guarantee to release all British prisoners, whether civil or military. Great Britain must clear these questions out of the way herself, the premier added, after which allied negotiations could proceed."

This is it mainly to protect and promote British interests that it is proposed to enter into negotiations with soviet Russia. When England gets what she wants, then she will induce the allies to join her in giving Minister Krassin a pledge of what Russia wants. Thus the other allies are merely British pawns.

Is this the manner in which England means to use the League of Nations later on to promote her own interests at the expense of other nations? At the present time the Bolshevik forces are in Persia ready to move on India. That is where the British shoe pinches, and doubtless one of the guarantees which the premier will demand is, that the menace to India will stop.

In their eastern campaign the soviet forces have certainly shown ingenuity. They have brought England to terms and now even at the sacrifice of French interests and in spite of French protests, it is proposed to establish trade relations with Russia. This means that each of the allies is to become a supporter of the Bolshevik regime. It is another example of the manner in which England will compromise with the greatest enemies of civilization, if, by so doing, she can gain a point of vantage for her interests. It was by such a policy in the past that she held Turkey in Europe and deprived Russia of an outlet to the sea through the Dardanelles.

Just how far the other allies will side with England in aiding Russia remains to be seen; they are too much in her debt to oppose her wishes outright. The outcome will bear watching.

Bolshevik Russia may be in a bad way; her people undoubtedly need relief; but it is not the human aspect of the case that moves the British premier to take the lead in making friends with soviet Russia. After this step, the next would be to take Russia in as a member of the League of Nations on an equal footing with the other members.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

It's amusing to note how vitally interested clerks at city hall become in the most minute item of news concerning their positions that may be published in the local papers. Perhaps it is but natural that they should be deeply interested in their own welfare as we all are, but in some offices the clerks are so much out of touch with certain phases of municipal affairs or so exclusively absorbed in their own work that even members of the municipal council are sometimes strangers to them.

Business of momentous import may be transacted by the city council and duly chronicled and many a bit of interest is manifested. But the briefest possible item concerning the clerks themselves makes its way into print and immediately the building becomes a hotbed of speculation—mental and vocal, of course. Last week a story was published to the effect that there was under consideration a plan to regulate clerks' salaries on a sliding scale by ordinance. At once practically every office resolved into a veritable forum of discussion. Here was real news and the clerks "ate it up." Who suggested the ordinance, what would the tenure be, what salaries would be established and a score of other questions immediately were fired into the ears of the reporters who had dutifully recorded the story and within 48 hours after the story news appeared letters were being forwarded to officials in other cities asking for information as to how salaries were regulated. When the proper stimulation is at hand, there is no group of workers more energetic and interested than those in the granite building.

The following was taken from the Lawrence Telegram. Since Manager Thomas Lees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company has made efforts to stop such practices in the cars in this city it may be of interest.

"The M. A. T. was talking this morning with a person who rides back and forth every day from Lowell to this city. Said person while very much disgusted was amused and at the same time convinced that she had found the champion expeditor of the country round about. It seems that in the two years she has been making the trip back and forth to this city, she has observed that from the time it gets warm enough to open the car windows till cold weather comes on, the men and boy passengers begin to spit out the windows. It is only a habit and a ridiculous and disgusting one, too, for those on the car who cannot help but notice it.

"This morning it seems this particular passenger had one of these expeditor fends in front of her, and by actual count he went through the performance 33 times between Lowell and Lawrence. He should be able to challenge the most time-honored veteran in the art of spitting."

The weather we have always with us as a source of comment and conversation. The weather predictions, too, are a source of never ending joy to those who take the pains to read them regularly and check up the weather as it actually develops with the kind that is promised. For three days last week the bureau predicted unsettled weather, showers and rain. All of the three days were bright and sunny, with hardly the trace of a cloud in the sky. Yesterday we had the prediction of fair and warmer. The fairness and warmth, however, were not noticeably in evidence. This naturally leads to the inquiry as to how often the weather sharps of the government hit the mark with their predictions. In a report issued a while ago the bureau officials claimed that 85 per cent of their predictions are correct. Perhaps they are, but common observation hereabout would seem to indicate otherwise. Whether the bureau's claim is borne out by facts probably depends largely on the point of view. Also, it may be that the bureau officials are somewhat prejudiced as umpires in keeping tabs on the fulfillment of their own predictions. The predictions cover a wide area. Forecasts for "Boston and its vicinity," for instance, apparently cover the territory anywhere within 50 miles of the big city. It may very well be true that when rain is predicted for this area, rain may fall for a short time in some portion of it while it is pleasant in the rest. In such a case the bureau officials would probably score one for a prediction that had come true although the ordinary man or woman might have a different view of the subject.

SEEN AND HEARD

The money minted now is of little value, but the mint beds are of less value. Never put off till tomorrow the thing you can do today, except the purchase of booze.

There seems to be very little difference in Mexico in running and gunning for office.

This back to the country movement might do better if there were chorus girls in the country.

Through all this long period of "moonshine" and "jakey" not one intoxicated person has been seen on a Fletcher street car.

Beaches that stand for one-piece suits should be careful. A small piece doesn't cost as much as a big one and "thrift" is the slogan these days.

Yes, times are pretty good, better than they were when some of us were boys. But how does anybody expect money to get tight in a dry country?

The girl at the soda fountain smiles so sweetly that the most ordinary drink tastes almost as good as the little drink of yesterday—the one with the olive chaser.

Reginald Was Cold

Feebly his wavering feet bore Reginald home. There had been one or two good fellows in the club. Isn't that enough to explain to our enlightened readers why Reginald's feet were wavering?

Into the front garden he staggered and sank to rest, with his head in a bed of daffodils and his feet on the gravel path.

But his wife had been awakened by the noise of his approach. Now she opened a window and shouted wildly: "Who's there?"

"Shut that window!" yelled Reginald crossly, roused from his slumbers. "I'm nearly frozen to death now."

Fussed Up His Farm

John Muller, a farmer at Greenlawn, L. I., sued a moving picture company for $2000 for trespass, because to make a moving picture "All for France," the company invaded his property with 1000 men, horses, machine guns, cannon and a lot of peasantry, and a big airplane scared Muller's horses so that they refused to work. Also, the airplane alighted in the middle of 27 acres of young corn and in trying to fly again gouged the whole length of the field two or three times lengthwise and two or three times crosswise, while the moving picture army trampled Mr. Muller's cabbages. The jury gave him $300 damages.

"Taps on Burns"

The enthusiastic English literary man at Always-on-the-Job had consented to deliver a lecture in the village club on Burns. For weeks beforehand the hill boards were covered with announcements, and when the appointed night came the hall was full to overflowing. He began with "The Cotters' Saturday Night," "Tam-o'-Shanter" and "The Jolly Beggar," and was proceeding with "John Anderson" when there came an interruption from the back of the hall.

"What is it, my man?" inquired the lecturer.

"When are you goin' to give us a few hints?" came the reply.

"Hints?" repeated the puzzled gentleman.

"Yes, hints," growled the man. "I paid three pence to come in, 'cos you was supposed to know all about Burns, an' there you stand spoutin' poetry like a parrot, while my missus, who's upset a saucepan o' boiling water on 'er foot, is waitin' to hear whether she'd better scuse it wi' oil or shake the flour dredger over it!"

On Being a Lady

"I wish I were like Josephine," said little Anne to me.

"I'd like to be as much at ease," said a lady-like as she.

"She holds her little finger out—'When she is drinking tea!'"

"I'd like to wear a pretty frock like hers, all frilled with lace; 'When shabby people pass her by, 'You ought to see her face.'"

"She says, 'Your people aren't neat, 'They're always out of place!'"

"She never has to wash a dish, 'Or dust, or sweep, or sew, 'But when there is a party on, 'She's always sure to go!'"

"She says, 'I never help at home, 'It always byes me so!'"

"I wish I were like Josephine," said little Anne, and sighed—And then she hurried from the room. For baby brother cried, And there were biscuits to be baked, And dishes to be dried.

And at her work she sang a song, As happy as a queen; And as I heard her joyous tones, I said—'And was I mean?'"

"Thank God, that you are little Anne—'And not like Josephine!'"

Earnings of International Mercantile Marine Co.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Estimated earnings of the International Mercantile Marine company, for 1919 amounted to $24,595,881, against actual earnings of $17,534,704 in 1918, according to the preliminary report issued for publication today.

Reducing interest on bonds and depreciation on steamers, the latter item amounting to $4,225,664, leaves a net result of $17,160,958, or $5,567,910 increase over 1918.

These figures represent earnings of steamers directly owned by the International Mercantile, together with returns of subsidiaries, which are largely of British ownership.

Earnings so far this year are stated to be under the corresponding period of 1919, due to lower freight rates, labor difficulties and excessive cost of fuel. For the remainder of the year, however, earnings are expected to improve as some of the company's passenger ships have been reconditioned and restored to their routes.

BACCALAUREATE AT ST. ANNE'S CHURCH

Rev. Appleton Granville, rector, preached the baccalaureate sermon to the Rogers Hall school seniors at St. Anne's church Sunday morning. He took for his text, "Where there is no vision, the people perish."

In part, he said: "When the history of civilization is being told, very large space is given to the men whose deeds we can see. The explorer who has opened up a land to civilization. The ruler who expanded the national boundaries. The inventor through whose skill human needs have been satisfied on an enormous scale. The man of business, through whose foresight of industry a nation has prospered. To all of these, great attention is paid. But quite as important, though not taken note of, to the same extent, is the work of the prophet, the poet, the dreamer, the seer those who create ideals and standards those who make us see the permanent and the abiding in life.

"A home is not made by erecting four walls and covering by a roof. A home is spiritual in character. A home is only a home insofar as love and tenderness and sympathy and kindness abide there."

"In all its permanent and abiding phases life is ruled by spiritual forces. The student, bending over his books, looks beyond to a position in life. It is his ideal that gives him courage and perseverance."

"We give altogether too little attention to the consideration of things that are permanent and abiding. In a time of disaster, in a time of sadness and sorrow, what is it that supports us, but a great faith in a great God? Without that faith, we could not carry ourselves with confidence through the struggle sure of victory in the end.

"Civilization, some one has said, is not dominion, nor wealth, nor luxury, nor even a great literary educational propaganda widespread, good as all these are. The true sign of civilization is kindness, civility, ceaseless devotion to the claims of justice."

"Chief among the books that have helped the world is the Bible, because it is endowed with these great spiritual qualities. It has given us the highest conception of truth and beauty and responsibility. Cut off from the world the vision that the Bible has unfolded, and the loss would be incalculable."

"We speak of a book as inspired because it gives us a deeper insight, a greater love of God, a greater care for women and children. The world needs that kind of vision, such as Charles Dickens has given. Every book of his was written with a purpose, in order that some ideal might be translated into reality. Without these ideals which our great thinkers have given, can you imagine anything more cold and cheerless and barren than this world would be? It is the religion of Jesus that has inspired men to the service of humanity. It is those who believe most strongly in God and immortality, who have done greatest service for the world. When faith in God dies out, faith in humanity dies at the same time.

"So we all need to keep before us these ideals, in order that our lives may be strong, that there may be a background. One of the things that helps to keep those ideals alive, is the day of rest. It is the duty of every right-minded man and woman to make the one day in each a day conspicuous for presenting to the world the great ideals of love and civility and service that the world is really hungry for."

"Do you suppose the life of Jesus, the ideals for which our civilization is tested, would have compelling power

ANNUAL CORPUS CHRISTI PROCESSION

The annual Corpus Christi procession of the Catholic parish of Tewksbury, which was held Sunday afternoon on the O.M.I. novitiate grounds, was carried out in a most beautiful and impressive manner.

Despite the fact that the weather looked threatening throughout the day, at 3 o'clock the procession started down the granite steps of the novitiate building and through the spacious grounds to the grove of thence along the main walk lined on both sides with beautiful maple trees, which made an appropriate setting for such a ceremony. An altar had been erected in the open air, but owing to the weather the procession moved along to the novitiate chapel where a sermon on the Blessed Eucharist was preached by Rev. John H. Doherty, O.M.I., of the Sacred Heart church, Lowell. Following the sermon, solemn benediction of the most Blessed Sacrament was given.

The officiating clergyman was Rev. John Duff, O.M.I., with Rev. Eugene Dorgan, O.M.I., deacon and Rev. Henry Burns, O.M.I., sub-deacon. The master of ceremonies was Rev. Robert J. McCoy, O.M.I., pastor of the Tewksbury parish.

The canopy under which the Blessed Sacrament was carried was borne by Edward J. Walsh, James Clancy, Geo. E. McCoy and William Kelley.

The order of the procession was as follows: Cross bearer and acolytes, little girls, little boys, Holy Rosary society, Sisters of the Holy Family, children of Mary sodality, parish choir, Oblate novices, lay brothers and the celebrant. The Holy Name society marched on both sides of the Blessed Sacrament, forming a guard of honor. A large number of people were present from Lowell and surrounding towns.

The new pastor has not yet changed his residence from Norwood, but plans to do so shortly.

ELECTIONS IN GERMANY

Majority Socialists Win 34 Seats in First Republican Reichstag

BERLIN, June 7.—Majority socialists have been elected to 34 seats in the first republican Reichstag, according to latest reports from the canvases of the vote cast yesterday. Independent socialists will hold 24 seats, the German people's party 23, democrats 16, German nationalists 15, centerists 14, and communists 2.

The approximate aggregate of the votes polled follow:

Majority socialists 2,971,000; independent socialists, 1,454,000; German people's party, 1,415,000; democrats, 895,000; German nationalists, 915,000; centerists 661,000; communists 138,000.

It is indicated that Matthias Erber, former vice chancellor and minister of finance, has been elected from Wurtemberg, and the election of Dr. Karl Helfferich at Hamburg is assured.

In the city of Berlin the latest figures show the Independent Socialists cast by far the largest vote of any of the parties, their total being 453,967, giving them seven seats in the Reichstag. The social democrats by this compilation, polled 156,631 votes, giving them three seats; the German people's party 149,666 votes, two seats; the German National party 112,719 votes, one seat; and the democrats 71,543, one seat.

The prominent Independent Socialist candidates who were victorious in Berlin, include Georg Ledebour; Herr Crispian, Adolph Hoffman, and Louise Selz.

Of the individual candidates it is known that Count von Bernstorff, former ambassador to the United States, running as a German nationalist, has been defeated.

The following may be considered elected:

German democrats—Herr Von Siemens, Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, former minister for the colonies; Dr. Peterson, Herr Hausmann, Herr Rueschke, Prof. Walter Schueking.

Majority socialists—Hugo Heimann, Richard Fischer, ex-Chancellor Philipp Scheidemann, Edward Bernstein, Otto Wels, Dr. Gustav Bauer, present minister of finance.

German people's party—Dr. Karl Helfferich, former vice chancellor; Herr Rieffer, Professor Wilhelm Kaehl, Dr. Gustav Stresemann, Herr von Kardorff, German nationalists—Herr Wulle, Herr Havemann.

Independent socialists—Karl Fritz Suhell, Herr Bretschold.

According to the North German Gazette, advisers from Stettin, the communists at Pöln destroyed the voting receptacles, which will necessitate another election there. At Hundsburg the voting document were destroyed as the sequel to a quarrel over alleged faulty registration.

The German election was held under the proportional voting system, under which every 60,000 votes cast by any party gives it one member of the Reichstag.

The present national assembly superseded by the new Reichstag, contains 165 social democrats or majority socialists; 50 members of the center, or clerical party; 75 German democrats, 42 German nationalists, 22 representatives of the German people's party, 22 independent socialists, and seven representatives of minor parties, a total of 423 members.

EXCEPTIONS OVERRULED

Court Denies Exceptions Taken By Counsel in Murder Case

Exceptions taken by counsel for Francisco Fecl of Lawrence, convicted in April, 1919, for murder in the first degree, have been overruled by the supreme court. Fecl was tried at Lowell for the murder of Fred Soulla at Billerica on October 25, 1918. His counsel were Meyer Sawyer of Boston and John Mack of North Adams. District Attorney Nathan A. Tuffis prosecuted the case for the government. The exceptions taken at the trial were argued before the supreme court by Attorney Philip Mansfield of Boston and District Attorney Tuffis. Fecl will probably be sentenced at the coming term of the criminal court, which comes in at East Cambridge, June 14.

PARIS, June 7.—The share of the United States in the first twenty billion marks gold of reparation bonds which Germany is required to issue under the Versailles treaty, will be about $300,000,000 it was stated today.

This sum, it was explained, will be for the first twenty months' occupation of the Rhineland by American troops.

HOW TO WORK THE HOME GARDEN

The following tips on matters pertaining to the garden are from the Middlesex county bureau of agriculture and home economics:

Most home gardens include beans as one of their vegetables. Many home gardeners are familiar with the farmers' practice of not doing a thing to or in among their beans when they are damp. Rust is a fungus disease which spreads very quickly when there is dampness upon the vines. Beans should not be hoed, picked, or one should not work among the beans rows, when they are damp in the morning after the dew or after a rain.

The doctors are telling us that we do not eat sufficient quantity of greens. Spinach is the common green grown in the garden during the spring and late fall. It does not do well during mid-summer as the warm weather sends it spinning up to seed. An earlier article suggested New Zealand spinach as a good summer green. This can still be safely planted. Swiss chard is another summer green that can be safely planted at the present time.

Save Fertilizer Around Home

The writer has a neighbor who saves the kitchen garbage and buries it in his garden daily. This is a most excellent practice. If followed up for some length of time the garbage from the home applied to the garden will very materially increase its fertility. This neighbor also has spaded up a spot where he proposes to have a garden succeeding years. This year he is spending his energy in getting the witch grass under control, and will shortly seed the piece with clover, being careful to time the area well. This clover will be spaded under as a green manure crop. The clover furnishes a large quantity of humus to the soil which practically all back yard gardens crave, and in addition will add a lot of nitrogen to the soil which the clover collects from the air. Nitrogen is the most expensive element in our fertilizers, therefore any plant that will gather this element from the air and add it to the soil in a form which the plant can readily use, is a great friend of the home gardener. Let's see to it that we plant clover in all vacant spots in our garden.

Of the 400,000 Japanese living outside their native land, 130,000 are in the United States.

CELEBRATED HIS FIRST WOMAN KILLS HERSELF

MASS YESTERDAY

Rev. Felix Tessler who was ordained last Thursday at the Boston cathedral by Rt. Rev. Bishop Anderson, celebrated his first mass at St. Jean Baptiste church yesterday morning.

Assisting Rev. Fr. Tessler were Rev. Augustin Gratton, O.M.I., as deacon and Rev. Aurelien Merell, O.M.I., as sub-deacon, while the master of ceremonies was the pastor, Rev. Eugene Turcotte, O.M.I. The sermon was given by Rev. L. N. Bachand, O.M.I. During the mass which was at 11 o'clock appropriate music was rendered by the regular church choir under the direction of L. N. Guitault, who also presided at the organ.

At the close of the mass dinner was served to the immediate relatives of the new clergyman at the home of his father, Mr. Edouard Tessler, 239 Cheever street and in attendance were also Rev. Fr. Turcotte, O.M.I., and Rev. Fr. Bachand, O.M.I. Later a reception was held during which a great number of friends extended their congratulations and best wishes. In the evening Rev. Fr. Tessler officiated at the vesper at St. Jean Baptiste church, the service being followed by the Corpus Christi procession. This morning Rev. Fr. Tessler celebrated mass at the O.M.I. novitiate in Tewksbury.

Rev. Fr. Tessler was born at St. Felix de Yalois, Que., 22 years ago, but came to this city while a boy. His early studies were made at St. Joseph's college, this city, while his classical course was followed at the Assumptionist college, l'Assomption, Que. He studied theology at the seminary of Montreal and completed his studies at St. John's seminary, Brighton. The members of his family are his father, Mr. Edouard Tessler of 239 Cheever st., four brothers and three sisters, Messrs. Jean, Louis and Romeo of this city; Miss Lucie Tessler of Lowell; Rev. Sister St. Felix of Sherbrooke, Que., and Rev. Sister Marguerite-Marie of Manchester, N. H., both of the order of the Sisters of Charity of Sherbrooke, Que.

INCREASE IN WAGES

The new scales of wages for the Lowell carpenters and mill men went into effect June 1, and the craftsmen received their first pay under the new arrangement last Saturday. The carpenters were granted an increase of 10 cents per hour, making their minimum wage $1 an hour, while the mill men received increases of 15 and 20 cents an hour, making their scale of wages 75 and 90 cents an hour.

Suicide by Gas Nearly Caused the Deaths of Several Other Members of Family

EVERETT, June 7.—The suicide of Mrs. Wallerka Doziadowicz nearly caused the deaths of several other members of her family today. Gas from a tube which she had placed in her mouth while she lay in bed escaped and overcame an eight-year-old daughter, who slept with her, two sons, who were in a bed in the same room and her husband, Joseph Doziadowicz and an infant son, who were in an adjoining room. Although the condition of the daughter and two sons was said to be serious, their recovery was expected.

Making New Citizens

Continued

Oaths of allegiance were administered by Clerk W. C. Dillingham. The examination of candidates was conducted by Chief Naturalization Examiner Jas. Carroll.

There were 250 names on the list of applicants for final citizenship papers who had been notified to be present. A considerable part of these were present with their witnesses and the crowd that filled all of the seats reserved for the public overflowed out into the corridors.

The process of making new citizens went forward without serious hitch. There was some delay in wedding the candidates for citizenship out of the crowd in attendance when their names were called. Once the applicants were lined up before the judge and examined, however, they were made citizens at the average rate of one every two minutes.

A considerable number of those naturalized gave up their allegiance to King George V. of Great Britain. There were also many persons from Russia, Poland, Austria, and Greece given their final papers. The subjects of Great Britain who renounced their former allegiance were mainly born in Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and the Province of Quebec.

A few of the cases were continued that the applicants might have an opportunity for additional study. It is expected the court will be continued tomorrow.

BOSTON'S POPULATION

Many Think Figure of 747,923 Incorrect—Gain Only 11.5 Per Cent

BOSTON, June 7.—The announcement of the United States census bureau, that the population of Boston is 747,923, an increase of only 11.5 per cent over the figures of 1910, has come as a surprise and a disappointment to most Bostonians. Some claimed yesterday that the figures themselves are incorrect and that the actual gain has been much larger.

The figures announced Saturday show the smallest percentage of increase since the provincial census of 1776. While it was not to be hoped that the figure of 1910, when it was found that more than 200,000 had been added to the city's population, would be duplicated, few were prepared for an increase of only 77,338.

All sorts of reasons are given by public men. Cessation of immigration is most commonly blamed and the tendency of people to move to the suburbs is given as another cause. The removal from the city of certain large industries is also spoken of and the lack of dwelling houses is mentioned. Some men, notably Mayor Peters, feel that considering the conditions caused by the war, Boston is fortunate that the population has increased as much as it has. Others express the belief that the census was not complete.

MATRIMONIAL

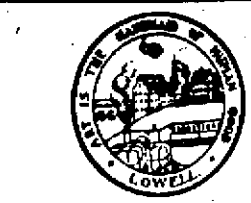

The marriage of Mr. Henri Blenvenne and Miss Ida M. A. Plourde took place this morning at a nuptial mass celebrated at St. Louis' church at 10 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. J. B. LaBrosse. The bride wore a dark blue tulle and carried a bouquet of white roses. She was attended by her brother-in-law, Mr. Edward Richards, while the groom's witness was his brother, Mr. Blenvenne. During the mass appropriate hymns were sung by the Children of Mary sodality choir, Miss Ida Monaghan presiding at the organ. At the offertory Miss Belanger sang an Ave Maria. During the mass the couple left on an extended wedding trip and upon their return they will make their home at 455 Lawrence st.

A pretty wedding took place this morning when Mr. Gerald D. Duval, manager of a fur and leather goods store in Haverhill and Miss Mollie Rogers, a prominent clerk at the Bon Marche, were united in the bonds of matrimony, the ceremony being performed at a nuptial mass celebrated at 8 o'clock in the private chapel of the Immaculate Conception rectory by Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I. The bride was attired in white georgette over bridal satin and carried bridal roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Cornelia Rogers, who wore white voile over society satin and carried pink roses. The best man was a brother of the bride, Mr. Walter Rogers of Detroit, Mich. At the close of the ceremony the bride and groom repaired to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Rogers, 55 Huntington street, where a wedding breakfast was served. The nuptial mass was celebrated by Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I. The bride and groom were attended by their sister, Miss Cornelia Rogers, who wore white voile over society satin and carried pink roses. The best man was a brother of the bride, Mr. Walter Rogers of Detroit, Mich. At the close of the ceremony the bride and groom repaired to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Rogers, 55 Huntington street, where a wedding breakfast was served.

Mr. Joseph J. Coope and Miss Bertha L. Mason were married yesterday afternoon at St. Patrick's rectory. The ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. Supple. Mr. William Coope, a brother of the groom, acted as best man, while the bride's witness was Miss Grace Mason, a sister of the bride. At the close of the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of the groom and later the couple left on the honeymoon trip. Upon their return they will make their home at 15 Apple street.

Mr. C. Frederick Shanahan and Miss Anastasia B. Frazier, two well known young residents of this city, were married this afternoon, the ceremony being performed at 3 o'clock at St. Columba's rectory by the pastor, Rev. J. J. Hally. The bride wore white georgette crepe with veil caught up with orange blossoms, and carried white sweet peas. She was attended by Miss Theresa Shanahan, who was attired in pink georgette crepe with pink picture hat, and carried pink posies. The best man was Mr. George A. Frazier. At the close of the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride, 16 Starbird street, and later the happy couple left on an extended honeymoon trip. After August 1 they will be at home to their friends at 16 Columbus avenue.

Mr. Henry J. Spaulding and Miss Lettie M. Noble, long residents of this city, were married Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, by Rev. E. A. Jenkins. The ceremony being performed at the home of the clergyman in Princeton street. The couple were attended by Mrs. E. A. Jenkins. The bride wore white serge with hat to match and carried bridal roses. After a honeymoon trip, they will make their home at West Chelmsford.

WINNERS IN FINAL WEEK OF TOURNEY

The handicap bowling tournament which had been in progress for seven weeks at the Crescent alleys was brought to a close on Saturday night, with the awarding of prizes for the final week, and the special prize covering the two weeks' extension period.

The tourney will be recorded in local bowling circles as one of the most successful in the history of the alley game.

Charlie Brigham won first prize in the individual rolling with a total of 342. Harral was second with 341.

Lindsey and Dr. Hewson won the two-man prize, with 679. The three-men prize went to Brigham, Buckley and Schombom, with 1009. Gendron, Sullivan, O'Brien, McDermott and Flanders landed the five-men honors with a total of 1817.

The complete figures of these winning prizes:

Individual—Brigham, 342; Harral, 341; Dr. Hewson and Sullivan, tied at 340; Grady and Hayden tied at 330.

Two-men—Lindsey and Dr. Hewson, 679; Schombom and Flanders, 672; Flanders and Myrick, 611; Bates and Sweeney, 603.

Three-men—Brigham, Buckley and Schombom, 1009; Gendron, McDermott and Flanders, 941; Ellis, Harral and Hosmer, 899; Concannon, Lebrun and Myrick, 861.

Five-men—Gendron, Sullivan, McDermott, O'Brien and Flanders, 1817; Sweeney, Concannon, Perrin, Estes and Myrick, 1609; Myrick, Flynn, Sweeney, Donohoe and Estes, 1593; Myrick, Flanders, Jewett, Johnson and Donohoe, 1576.

Dr. Hewson won the special tournament prize, with a score of 281.

NEW HOTEL WILL COST $800,000

The proposed new Harrisonia hotel in Middle street will cost $800,000, according to an estimate filed with the inspector of buildings at city hall.

A permit for the erection of the building has just been granted. The architects of the building will be O'Connell & Shaw, and the builder, the E. A. Abbott Co. of Boston. The building will consist of ten stories and will be 110 feet in height of concrete and steel construction.

The Johnson-Borah irreconcilables have a plank of their own ready to submit, if the platform conferences do not yield a result acceptable to them, but they indicated confidence today that no open fight by them would be necessary.

The mild reservationists are dissatisfied with the plank under consideration in the platform conferences because it would have the force, they say, of merely declaring against the League covenant as contained in the treaty of Versailles. They want an affirmative declaration for ratification of the treaty with safeguarding reservations.

Wood Forces for Beveridge. In the fight over permanent organization, the Wood forces will throw at least some of their strength for Senator Beveridge.

"I am for Senator Beveridge," said Frank H. Hitchcock today. "and I would have been for him even though he had not been instructed by his state for Gen. Wood. I have reason to believe that Senator Beveridge is highly regarded in other camps."

Johnson Mass Meeting. Senator Johnson's mass meeting tonight by which his supporters hope to throw his campaign forcibly upon the attention of the national convention will be addressed also by Senator Borah. The California candidate is expected to deal with various topics in controversy before the convention, including the League of Nations and the methods of selecting delegates from the south.

The scramble for convention tickets began today with their distribution through members of the national committee and the local arrangements committee. Bales of the pastboards and accompanying badges and souvenirs were given out at a hotel, and there was a stampede of committeemen. The seats were allotted according to the proportionate representation of each state in the convention.

Miss Gaston Withdraws. Lucy Page Gaston, the only woman entrant in the presidential race, announced today that her name would not be presented to the convention. She said she had withdrawn in favor of anyone "who will endorse the moral of any for which I stand."

Miss Gaston entered the South Dakota primaries on a platform which included an anti-cigarette plank, unadulterated food and "clean morals."

Penrose Keeps Poised. Although kept away by illness, Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, a conspicuous figure for years in national conventions is closely in touch with developments here, and constantly is advising his lieutenants. There is a telephone line direct from the senator's house in Philadelphia to the headquarters here for the delegation.

Regret over the enforced absence of the Pennsylvania leader was expressed today by Chairman Hays of the national committee.

BOXING TO BE RESUMED HERE NEXT SATURDAY

After a lay-off of several weeks, boxing is to be resumed here on next Saturday afternoon when the first one-air show of the season will be staged at Spalding park.

In arranging for the "one-air" the Crescent A. A. has selected the following: Boyle, Lowell and Johnny Downes of South Boston to meet in a 12-round bout for a decision, the weight to be 125 pounds.

In securing this pair the local matchmaker has tied up one of the best attractions in New England. Boyle has been traveling at a terrific clip since he staged his remarkable "come back" against Frankie Britt.

He really beat Britt and should be now the holder of the New England lightweight title. Since then he has beaten Jimmy Purcell of New York, Charlie Simler of New York, and Charlie Parker of Boston, and had the shade of Billy de Foe, but an agreement before the non-championship fight brought him a draw decision. He has been training ever since and his manager today stated that he is in great condition and is anxious to the fight.

In meeting Downes he realizes that he will face one of the most dangerous contenders.

Downes made a very favorable impression the last time he showed here and since has engaged in three victorious bouts. He, too, is after the title and in fact he is claiming that the victory over Harry Carlson entitles him to nose as the champ. Downes' most recent successes have been victories over Billy de Foe and Nick Michale.

There will be three other bouts.

RESOLUTE AND VANITIE TRIALS

NEWPORT, R. I., June 7.—A 10 knot breeze was blowing across lower Narragansett Bay today when Resolute, with a new mast, and Vanitie, with a somewhat impatient crew, made sail for the second of the trial races to determine the defender of the America's cup.

Resolute appeared improved by her overhauling. Briefly into water and Manager Emmons said before the race that he thought further changes in the yacht would not be necessary because of accidents.

The regatta committee planned a triangular course today which just before the start, looked like two reaches and a fleet to the finish. The weather was clear with the skies somewhat overcast.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Barclay A. C. defeated the Ewars last Thursday by the score of 10 to 5. The winners are traveling along at top speed and would like games with 14 or 15-year-old teams. The Pawtucketville Blues preferred. Answer through this paper.

The Jolly Crowd challenges the Braves or Belvidere Tigers for a game at Lincoln park.

The Cardinals will play the Unity A. C. a twilight game on the South common tomorrow evening at 6:30 o'clock. Also games are wanted with the St. Peter's S.S. or other 14 or 15-year-old teams. Answer through this paper.

All at Sea on Convention Eve

amounted to little more than one-fourth of the total delegate strength on the first ballot, and it takes a majority to nominate.

With prospects of a deadlock thus becoming better hourly, favorite sons and dark horse possibilities increased their activities and further tangled the knotted reins of control for which the party leaders are wrestling. The outlook helped, too, to enliven the squabble over contested convention seats and the struggle over permanent organization of the convention. At least some and possibly all, of the 137 contests decided by the national committee will be brought before the credentials committee for a rehearing and a few may be decided finally on the convention floor itself.

For Permanent Chairman. Realizing the friendly which might be wielded by a powerful staff of permanent convention officials, the managers for all the candidates are studying carefully before they jump one way or the other in the choice of a permanent chairman.

Senator McCormick of Illinois, and former Senator Beveridge of Indiana, are most prominently mentioned for the chairmanship, but the strength behind neither has yet become clearly defined and a choice may be postponed until the last minute.

If the outlook over candidates and organization is uncertain, most of the leaders agree that the situation as regards platform, at least, is beginning to take form. Only a few of the more troublesome planks remain to be agreed on, and although some sharp struggles are in prospect, no one seems to think that any of them will lead to serious consequences.

Fight Over League Plank. There were indications today that a League of Nations plank, over which one of the bitterest convention fights had been predicted, might soon be given the approval of all the leaders except a small group of mild reservationists.

Camel CIGARETTES

You've said something when you order Camels! Never was such a cigarette!

CAMELS stand the test! They are always keenly enjoyable! You can smoke your fill day in, day out, yet when you get into action again, it's Camels-for-yours! They are so delightfully refreshing! Camels quality never tires your taste!

Camels are your kind of a cigarette because they were made to fit your cigarette desires! And, they do! To you, as to thousands of smokers all over the nation, Camels expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos is a revelation! You will prefer Camels blend to either kind of tobacco smoked straight!

You never puffed such refreshing flavor from a cigarette as Camels so lavishly hand out; you never enjoyed such smooth mellow mildness with such generous body! And, besides Camels never leave any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or unpleasant cigarette odor!

Our confidence is so great that you will like Camels better than any cigarette you ever smoked that we put it this way: Compare Camels with any cigarette in the world at any price!

Union Men Meet Council

aldermanic chamber at city hall, shortly before noon today.

Inasmuch as the council was not assembled in formal session, no definite action was taken on the matter, but it will probably be considered at tomorrow's regular weekly meeting.

Accompanying Mr. Finnegan in his mission of presenting the case of the laborers were Daniel Moynihan, Thomas McCaffrey and Timothy O'Rourke, representing the grievance committee of the union. Mr. O'Rourke being also vice president of the Lowell Trades and Labor council; Fred Laraway of the grievance committee of the Trades and Labor council, and Michael P. Regan, president of the Teamsters' union and also a member of the Trades and Labor council.

This morning's conference was the upshot of a meeting of the municipal employees' union held yesterday afternoon, at which Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy of the street department was present. At that meeting, President Finnegan made the statement that if Commissioner Murphy would present an order for $10,000 to the municipal council to cover an increase for members of his department to $5 a day, it would be passed without difficulty. This morning, it was brought out that Commissioners and Mayor Thompson would not do so.

promised Mr. Finnegan to vote for the money if the $5 wage were recommended to them by Commissioner Murphy.

Conference in Detail. The conference was called at 11:45 with all members of the municipal council present.

Commissioner Murphy, who presided, said that at yesterday's meeting of the Municipal Employees' union he told of the work being paid men doing similar work for private corporations and also for other municipalities. He offered an increase of 25 cents per day, he said, but the men wanted 50 because they thought by accepting 25 cents now they would not be able to get 50 later on. President Finnegan made the statement, Mr. Murphy said, that members of the city council would vote for a budget to allow a 30-cent increase and that if an order for $10,000 were introduced, it would be passed.

President Finnegan was then introduced and he dwelt at length on the cost of living in the past few years. "We have the name of getting $1.50 a day," he said, "but we're not getting $2 a day on account of the days off due to rainy weather. I don't believe that there have been more than three weeks since the first of January that we received a full week's pay. My men have been very patient since we first put in our petition for $5 a day at the beginning of the year but now the time has come when we must do something."

He approached the commissioners and I approached them to vote for more money because I felt it my duty to do so."

gan what assurance he had that members of the municipal council would vote money for a $5 a day wage. Mr. Finnegan said that point would "come out later."

The mayor then asked if arrangements were made to pay men for rainy weather, would the other members of the union who do not suffer from such loss of pay want an increase also.

Mr. Finnegan said that he would have to bring that question before the union before he could answer it.

At this point, President Regan of the Teamsters' union arose and said that the other members would not be satisfied with such an arrangement.

Mayor Thompson: "Then what you really want is a flat increase?"

President Finnegan: "Yes."

Commissioner Marchand and Commissioner Donnelly said that they had promised Mr. Finnegan that they would support Commissioner Murphy in whatever recommendations he made concerning wage increases in his department, but they thought the matter should be decided by him. Commissioner Salmon said that he would back up Commissioner Murphy, but that he certainly could not grant $5 a day to the men in the water department.

Fred Laraway, representing the Trades and Labor Council, said that while city employees had received only 100 per cent. increase since 1915 the cost of living had advanced from 90 to 600 per cent. and that there was no prospect of an immediate decrease.

Timothy O'Rourke reviewed the hearing given by the council early in the year on the petition for $5 a day and said that there was not a single remonstrant at that time.

Mr. Regan said that the increase was not being asked alone for the street department but for all departments.

Mr. Moynihan also spoke briefly in favor of the increase.

IN POLICE COURT

Boy Wanted a Little More Spending Money

A 17-year-old boy was arrested Saturday night as a suspicious character. He testified in police court today, that he did not go home to his parents that night because he has been working for two years and getting $15 per week, but has never got more than a nickel a week from his father. The court ordered the boy placed in the care of the probation officer, who was instructed to send for the father and make arrangements for a more liberal allowance.

STUCK BY AUTOMOBILE. Last evening about 8 o'clock Arthur J. Roy of 418 Moody street reported that his auto struck Belas Nickalopoulos of 428 Market street. The injured youngster, who is seven years old, was taken to the Lowell Corporation hospital, where the injury was not found to be serious. Roy reported the accident to the police.

MORE LOWELL MEN JOIN THE NAVY

Chief Joseph Crepeau, now in charge of the navy recruiting station here sent two men to Boston today as recruits for service on the seas. Joseph Montes of 15 Charles street went down as an apprentice seaman for ship's cook. Charles Plunkett of 61 Ludlum street went down as an apprentice seaman also. Plunkett is the first 17-year-old man to be enlisted locally since the new age law went into effect and he will have to remain in the service until he becomes 21 years of age. When the 17-year-old law was in force last year Plunkett was desirous of enlisting, but circumstances at that time prevented him. He went down today with his parents' consent.

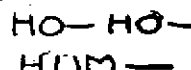

SEEKS TO INCREASE ITS MEMBERSHIP. In an endeavor to increase its membership, the Amalgamated Woolen and Worsted Weavers' union held an open meeting in Odd Fellows' hall, Middlesex street, yesterday afternoon. The meeting was presided over by Michael Casey, president of the organization, and the speakers were General Organizer A. J. Muste of New York, C. W. Blanchard and James Dick of Rockville, Conn. In the course of the meeting it was stated that the local union has now a membership of over 200, and without exception every member of the union was formerly connected with the American Federation of Labor.

raham Lincoln was placed in nomination in 26 words.

The making of the presidential nomination was announced to the city by the firing of a cannon placed on the roof of the convention hall.

That night cannon and rockets were fired, bonfires lighted and multitudinous parades formed, their participants carrying anything that would serve—ever to rakes and fishing poles.

The foregoing data was obtained from the library of the Chicago Historical society, which has various relics of the convention and the campaign that followed.

ADVERTISING REDUCES COST TO CONSUMER

OPPOSE SURRENDER OF POLICE FUNCTIONS

INDIANAPOLIS, June 7.—Advertising reduces the cost to the consumer instead of adding an additional tax to the article, in the opinion of speakers at today's general session of the 16th annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World. It was also emphasized that advertising lifts the market standard and is an essential factor in successful distribution of goods.

"It is entirely wrong to look upon the expense of advertising as one of the costs which add to the price," declared Joseph French Johnson, dean of the New York University School of Commerce.

"Without advertising, large scale production is absolutely impossible, and large scale production is the sine qua non of low prices. Furthermore, advertising sees to it that people shall get goods of the best quality. Advertising puts no royal crown on the head of a kumbug.

"There are still too many people who believe that advertising is more or less an expensive luxury, and that it is an expense that consumers must pay for if they buy advertised goods."

L. D. H. Weld, manager of the Commercial Research department of Swift & Co. of Chicago, said: "Advertising not only reduces selling costs by producing a greater demand for the same expenditure, but it also reduces manufacturing expenses by making possible large scale production, by bringing about a standardization of commodities and by transforming seasonal demands into continuous and all-year demands."

Too Young for Dark Horse

who knows where to buy it at bargain rates. It's cheaper, but scarcer. "Bellhop" whiskey isn't as good. It's sold largely to strangers. Just ring the bell and ask the bellhop, and if he happens to be the right kind of a bellhop, he'll get the stuff. Prices depend on what the middleman has to pay. They figure 100 per cent. commission.

On yes, it can be had in large quantities, too—anything up to 1,000 cases. A Chicago man slipped the word around the Congress hotel lobby that he had been approached by an agent of a booze ring who claimed to have 1,000 cases—guaranteed bonded—he was willing to sell at $110 a case. Delivered, too—for a small extra charge of $1 a case.

The old G.O.P. dope kettle got all stirred up and dripped over the edges when Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., blew into town.

Delegates stared at him and reporters trailed him as he dashed in and out of Wood, Johnson, and Lowden campaign headquarters and finally cornered Chairman Will Hays for a friendly chat. "Compliments, sure!" breathed a delegate, excitedly.

"Mayne Teddy Junior's going to be a dark horse. Gosh! With a name like that! Roosevelt for president! He'll sweep the convention!"

The tip spread. Everybody was talking about it. Enthusiasm grew. And then some unimaginable statistical wizard came along and spoiled everything. The bubble burst.

"Shucks!" said the kid-joy, "the boy's only 33! Don't you birds know a man's gotta be 35 to be president?"

Troubles keep piling up for republican national committee.

They're being run ragged these days. Contesting delegates talk them to death in the "supreme court" room down at the Coliseum, and after hours in hotel lobbies.

Indignant women are planning to picket the convention as a final prod to put over a suffrage ratification plank.

Irish patriots are demanding recognition—and drys are buttonholing committee men demanding a honey-dry plank.

And now a delegation of 19 horny-handed farmers have arrived to tell their agricultural troubles to the committee.

Charles Barnett, a democrat by politics and a farmer by occupation, is at the head of the farmer delegation. He's at the head of a movement of organized farmers in the south, and he plans to tell the G.O.P. committee that if the big political parties don't do something to help the farmers we'll all be scratching vainly for food one of these days.

"I don't know whether the senate will investigate me or not," said a woman voter, "but I'm going to vote for Hiram Johnson and I'll accept apoppy and a nice, big orange with thanks."

A carload of poppies and oranges brought all the way from California in food baggage cars deluged Chicago Saturday when the Johnson delegation arrived on a special train.

FEW RETURN AS PLANT OPENS

WOONSOCKET, R. I., June 7.—The American Woonsocket Co. plant here, closed last Tuesday by a strike of its 550 employees, was reopened this morning but only 50 workers, including foreman and clerks, reported.

The strikers held a meeting at which plant manager John F. Sweeney appealed to the men to return under the company's plan. A vote was taken, 377 voting against and 15 in favor. A proposition for a mail ballot covering the entire number of strikers, was rejected. Manager Sweeney stated there would be no compromise by the company.

THE STRAND

"Nurse Marjorie" is a new kind of a picture story, featuring Mary Miles Minter, and Harry T. Morey in "The Sea Rider" will be the big thing on the bill at The Strand for the first three days of this week. They were shown at this afternoon's matinee. Don't forget that tonight's performance is the latter Carrara's benefit concert and revue.

"Nurse Marjorie" is a story of English life, with Miss Minter portraying the role of a daughter of the rich who breaks all family traditions and actually goes to work. In an endeavor to determine which of her suitors love her for her own self and not her wealth. "The Sea Rider" is a vigorous tale of the sea, with Mr. Morey in one of his biggest dramatic parts. The usual comedy and weekly will also be shown.

Detroit, June 7.—Opposition to the surrender of police functions to private societies, and the pronouncement of a definite attitude on the problems of social evil, gambling and the liquor traffic were recommended to the International Association of Chiefs of Police, by Joseph M. Quigley of Rochester, N. Y., president of the organization in opening its 27th annual convention here today. He also recommended the assumption by the police chiefs' association of leadership in solving the problems relating to law, order and social justice.

President Quigley predicted that within five years the United States would have a national police force which would take the work of crime detection out of the hands of municipal authorities. He cited the interlocking and enforcing laws as one of the objects of the police chiefs' association in "keeping close track of criminals."

"What is one section is deemed dangerous to public peace and morals," he said, "is put down as legitimate in another."

INCREASED FORCE AT BRISTOL, R. I. PLANT

BRISTOL, R. I., June 7.—An increased force of operatives went to work at the National India Rubber Co.'s plant today, under the protection of two troops of cavalry, and without any contact with the striking employees. A few strikers were on the streets.

The gains in the factory's working force were considerable in all departments except the making room and shoe department, according to company officials. "In these departments, the work of which is essential to operation of the tennis shoe section of the plant, the number of employees was so small that strikers claimed it was still a question whether the company could long continue its attempt to operate with a skeleton force."

The original body of strikers who walked out a month ago, was approximately 1000 persons, but absenteeism since the plant was reopened under military guard last Thursday, have been more than twice that number and about one half the 4700 operatives usually employed.

STEERS CREATE PANIC ON SHIP

800 Stampeded, Ran Up and Down Docks and Then Jumped Overboard

Many Become Prey of Sharks Which Infest Waters Off Morro Castle

HAVANA, June 7.—Hundreds of steers stampeded on board the American steamer St. Charles outside of Havana harbor Saturday afternoon and after creating a panic on board, plunged into the sea, where they became the prey of the sharks which infest the waters off Morro Castle. Except for a few that swam ashore, all of the 800 steers on the vessel, are believed to have perished.

Sanitary officers who inspected the vessel on her arrival Saturday, were alarmed when they found 130 steers in the hold of the ship. They ordered the captain to put to sea and throw the carcasses overboard. While the crew was engaged in this task, the steers ran up and down the docks and then plunged overboard, where the tigers of the deep were awaiting them.

Tugs sent out to the St. Charles found the crew virtually paralyzed with terror. It is reported only 50 carcasses have been removed from the ship and harbor authorities are finding much difficulty in securing men to enter the hold of the steamer to complete the task of clearing the St. Charles of its menagerie cargo.

DO YOU WEIGH AS MUCH AS YOU OUGHT?

How Many Thin People Build Themselves Up To Normal Standards

Do you realize that unless your weight is up to normal you are actually in danger of serious illness? No better proof of this is needed than the strict rules of the insurance companies which forbid the issuance of insurance to those who are underweight.

Many thin people find that they gain weight steadily while taking Father John's Medicine. The pure food tonic elements which are contained in this old-fashioned prescription strengthen and build up those who are thin, weak and run down. It is real food and in a form which even the weakest system can easily take up.—ADV.

Mr. Grant, who is a cousin to Mrs. McQuade, went west in the early 70's and in company with an elder brother engaged in the construction of railroad lines. From here Mr. Grant and family go to Cornwall, Ont. Mr. Grant's headquarters. They will return home by way of the C.P.R. to Vancouver, thence to California by one of the numerous coastwise steamship lines.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the undersigned, take this means of expressing our sincere thanks to our relatives, friends and neighbors, also the United Spanish War Veterans, and the Knitting dept. of Shaw Street, for their kind words of sympathy and floral and spiritual tributes which helped to lighten the burden of sorrow in the death of our beloved husband and son, Charles. We shall hold all in long remembrance.

follow. Capt. Ford again will recruit his company of soldiers; Thieroea Frawthorn will enter as an Acadian exile and Molly Varnum and groups of Colonial boys and girls will romp, play and dance.

The prologue begins with the entrance of a Pilgrim Spirit. Harold Nickerson, who looks curiously around and calls for the Spirit of Lowell, portrayed by Miss Helen Osgood. She enters with her attendants, Art, Science, Spindle and Water, represented respectively by Misses Margaret Dugan, Catherine Coleman, Doris Shumway, and Marion Sewell. Lowell as she enters, look around for the one who has called her. When she sees him she goes forward with her attendants. Pilgrim says that Pilgrims and many others for generations have worshipped two great spirits—Liberty and Love, and as he returns to his land he sees in Lowell as in other cities of New England, the wonders of a community reared under the guidance of these spirits. He sees, too, that there is another spirit necessary to make the city's great population happy and to make for a better city. The Pilgrim charges Lowell to seek this spirit and guide her people to it. Lowell arises and calls on Hope.

Hope (Miss Dorothy Fryer) enters, later followed by the spirits of Future and Youth (Miss Beryl Fraid and Miss Katherine McDonald). Youth, in turn, is followed by Progress (Miss Anna Kolankina); Courage (Miss Bernice Flynn); Fraternity (Miss Ada Connelley); Vision (Miss Florence McNabb); and Folly (Miss Florence Brooks). Lowell is perplexed because she does not find the spirit for which she looks. Youth says it must be Liberty. Liberty, portrayed by Miss Ruth Richter, comes in, but still Lowell is not quite satisfied, and says she will await the entrance of Childhood, Miss Margaret McFadden.

Childhood, followed by Play and Joy (Misses Margaret Smith and Evelyn Phillips) enter to the sound of music. Youth says surely the spirit of Lowell has found what she wants, but Lowell says no. Childhood says there are more with whom she plays and subsequently calls upon Autumn, with harvests and leaves; Winter, with snowflakes and frost; Spring, with rain and flowers; Summer, with birds, butterflies, rainbows and sunshine.

Autumn is portrayed by Miss Mary Coffey, with the following girls as leaves: Bessie Clark, Hazel Corners, Annabelle Perry, Catherine Sullivan, Anna Cavanaugh, Dorothy Kerrigan, Lucy Sayball, Alice Smith, Louise Kerrigan, Esther Whiting, Gertrude Henderson, Claire Bassett, Alice Bassett, Mary Bassett, Elsie Rutledge, Ruth Tompkins, Myrtle Higelow and Beatrice Lacourt.

Winter, portrayed by Miss Helen Dick, is followed by the following girls as snowflakes: Helen Tarr, Margaret Gendry, Elsie Daily, Katherine Gendry, Adele Greb, Diana Vlasos, Doris McCaffrey, Dorothy Rowanville, Nellie Fulton, Helen Donoghue, Marjorie Greenwood, Hazel Nichol, Elleen Darragan, Gladys Hood, Elleen Wholey, Lucella Cook, Winifred McCready and Elsie Lacourt.

Spring, Miss Marion Quinn, has the following attendants as flowers: Helen Sullivan, Helen Green, Estella Miller, Edna Higelow, Esther Sharf, Gilbert Roy, Grace Harrington, Elizabeth Lambert, Frances Carmichael, Ruth Patenaude, Mildred Johnson, Estelle Laurin, Dorcas McGee, Eunice McGee, Mary Murdock, Beatrice Breton, Esther Brennan and Mary Doran.

Miss Marion Beverly as Summer is followed by the following girls as butterflies: Annabelle Virtue, Helen Dale, Florida LaChance, Lillian Walsh, Anna Sullivan, Myrtle Fulton, Elvinsine Chopleas, Dorothy Migneault, Doris Sabourin, Lucinda Holmes, Gertrude Spillane, Louise Danouche, Gertrude Donahue, Annette Porter, Gladys Fulton, Agnes Barker and Doris Lacourt.

The spirit of Lowell watches the dance of the Seasons but shakes her head, still dissatisfied. The spirit of Love, Miss Elizabeth Kelley, comes in and is joined by Liberty. Together they disappear and come back again with the spirit of Unity. This is the spirit Lowell seeks and the prologue ends.

First Episode

The first episode is of Indian Days and will be taken over entirely by the Lowell Post, American Legion. The principal characters are: Passaconaway, John J. Walsh; Wannanlatip, Jas. Georran, John Elliot, J. P. McLaughlin; Capt. Goodwin, John O'Grady; Indian Maidens include: Molly Washburn, Leland Henderson, Laura Derozio, Alice Palmer, Rubina Lawless, Ena Harrison, Mildred Buzzell, Elizabeth Croxley, Elancho Reid, Katherine Kelley, Rose Rostler, Edith Kolzen, Bertha Levine, Evelyn Rosenfeld, Eva Marmer, Frances Carr, Miriam Mazur, Anna Lebovitz, Nettie Rostler, Doris Cohen, Anna Cobb, Pearl Weiner, Vivian James, Elizabeth Buzzell, Dorothy Bainbridge and Effie James.

house in Pawtucket street, with "Lighting Up" in September and the "Blowing Out" in March, will be portrayed by members of the Lowell College club. These balls were wonderful social events and largely attended, even though the admission tickets sold for 50c.

The spirit of the dance will be Miss Victoria Jennison, while the participants in the ball will be the following: Misses Beth Wilson, Edna Lauria, Amy French, Ruth Walker, Rose Portlock, Mary Haggerty, Mary Humphreys, Gertrude Fay, Verda Leach, Anna Armstrong, Marion Leach, Anna Armstrong, Margaret Leachetter, Hazel Cameron, Margaret Doherty, Mildred Anderson, Gertrude Lewis, Marion Durrell, Martha Gallagher, Marie Reynolds, Elleen Green and Florence McKewin. Messrs. Sterling Pratt, Edward Bell, Ray Crowley, Maurice Lawler, Alde Bourgeois, Elsie Trull, Edward Donohue, William McCann, Harold Bourgeois, Robert Watson, Harold Bowen, J. J. Sullivan, George Stuart, Theodore Parthenalos, Herman Parent, John McLaughlin, Stanley Griffin, George A. Gagan, Raymond Reynolds, Douglas Walker, Francis Saunders, Richard Chase, Ray Donovan, William Thompson.

The Girls' Community Service club, under whose auspices the pageant was planned, will give a symbolic representation of the manufacture of cotton, including the processes of picking, carding, spinning and weaving. Participants in the cotton dance include: Ruth Bessner, Mary Livingston, Elizabeth Knowles, Evelyn Carr, Kathleen Murphy, Ruth Bixby, Ruth Harris, Dorothy Colby, Helen Craig, Gladys Sawry, Myrtle Green, Mildred Adams, Elizabeth Green, Annie Angus, Elizabeth McHarg, Beatrice Newhall, Viola Stys, Mary Sullivan, Lillian Salmonson, Sadie Tooley, Mary Vance, Anna Quinn, Lillian Blessington, Lillian Powers, Helen Powers, Mary Sonnes, Esther Gallagher, Marion Knudson, Frances Sharkey, Flora Chislin, Frances Sharkey, Lilla Green, Helen Stafford, Ruth Dalton, Clara Dalton, Emily Koneczna, Dorothy Ryan, Frieda Kenney, Gertrude McCrossan, Margaret McCrossan, Margaret Price, Florence Seton, Jeannette Kennedy, Emily Lawson, Doris Dempsey, Theresa Smith, Lillian Renaud, Helen Smith, Anna Kennedy, Sadie Melancon, Alice Curran, Catherine Harrington, Dorothy Nolan, Ellen Horman, Doris Aitken, Hazel Kirk, Laura Boudreau, Helen Tuttle, Rosu Hedburg, Bertha Brom, Helen Constantino, Flora Marshall, Mary McCarthy, Amy Mosher, Harriet Myhr, Elsie Haggen, Anita Dufresne, Lillian Regan, Elsie Shaw, Hazel Ramus, Irene Adams, Joseph Komleczna.

Fourth Episode

The era of the Civil war is covered in the fourth episode, which is in the hands of the O.M.I. Cadets and C.E.M.I. The Old Sixth Massachusetts regiment again will draw recruits from Lowell and the historical facts of those stirring times will be vividly shown.

Gen. Benjamin Butler, played by John J. O'Rourke; Mayor Peabody, played by Frank K. Stearns and his staff, including William W. Dennett, Arthur K. Whitcomb, James F. Conway and William Boland, will take prominent roles in this episode. Gen. Butler's return will be the subject of a big celebration for young and old alike.

Soldier parts will be played by Alfred Burns, Frank Gahan, Samuel O'Neill, Lester Robinson, John O'Brien, Frank O'Brien, Terrence Higgins, William Morgan, Albert Leith, Arthur Conroy, Hubert McQuade, C. O'Donnell, Joseph Busby, Frank Leary and William O'Dea.

Representing the Grand Army of the Republic will be Commander Dudley L. Page, Post 42; Commander P. B. Planders, Post 120, and Commander Franklin S. Pevey, Post 155.

John Lavin, Patrick Sullivan, William Keefe and Dennis Shanahan will appear as children of the times, with the following girls from the Y.W.C.A.: Gladys Ingram, Nellie Clouston, Marion McCloy, Mary Marsh, Julia Stafford, Margaret Sears, Sophia Simmons, Olive Hamblett, Marion Carleton, Mrs. Margaret Craig, Helen Phillips, Nellie Bartlett, Mildred Weston, Helen Cronin, Loretta Kelley, Lottie Trevos, Ruth Shea and Harriet Bennett.

In a spirited life and drum corps will be: Robert J. Leith, William McCarthy, Joseph Buckley, Raymond Booth, Sylvester O'Toole, Thomas Dignan, Arthur McQuade, Joseph Craven, Henry Booth, John Craven and William Robinson.

Fifth Episode

Lowell of today will be shown in the fifth and final episode. Two heralds enter and blow their trumpets. The spirit of Lowell appears in the background and heralds come to escort in the many nationalities of the community.

The spirit of America, Miss Mary Holden, enters and asks Lowell what she did for the world war. Lowell says she will show her.

Entrance of nations represented in Lowell. This is in form of a parade, each nation making their own display as unique and characteristic as possible. After each group performs, they are placed on the stage by the heralds, the next group is brought in, etc., until all have performed and are left on the stage with each nation's flag unfurled.

Then parade Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Red Cross nurses and others whom we may have—who also remain in the picture. Then Love, Liberty and Unity appear in the background. Then a rousing march and the girls who make the big flag. At the opening of this all other flags are furled. A sailor and a soldier, John V. Cahill and Charles Barten, come on either side of Lowell in the picture, and all sing "The Star Spangled Banner," to bring the pageant to a close.

THREE AMERICANS ELIMINATED

MURFIELD, Scotland, June 7.—Three of the American golfers entered in the English amateur championship tournament which began here today were eliminated in the opening round. Eben M. Byers of Pittsburgh, United States champion in 1906, was defeated by G. C. Manford of Liffness, 3 and 4. G. H. Walker, of St. Louis, lost to A. B. Phillips, Porterspark, 3 and 3, and W. Smith, County Down, defeated Findlay S. Douglas of New York, United States champion in 1908, by a score of 3 up and 2 to play.

INJURED HIS HEAD

While at his work at the Saco-Lowell shops shortly after 10.30 o'clock this forenoon, William Kennedy, of 291 High street, received injuries to his head. The ambulance removed him to the Lowell Corporation hospital.

Galveston Under Martial Law

AUSTIN, Tex., June 7.—Galveston was placed under martial law, effective at noon today, in a proclamation issued by Governor W. P. Hobby, because of freight congestion there, resulting from a strike of longshoremen.

Five Killed by Explosion at Kent, Ohio

CLEVELAND, June 7.—A telephone message from Kent, Ohio, says five persons are reported dead and many hurt in an explosion in the plant of the Mason Tire & Rubber Co. Fire is sweeping the plant and a company of the Akron fire department has gone to Kent in response to an appeal for aid.

Apology for Burning British Flag

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Secretary Colby on behalf of the American government has tendered a verbal apology to the British ambassador for the burning of a British flag here last week by Irish women. Mr. Colby said this action had been taken pending receipt of an official report on the incident which the District of Columbia authorities have been asked to submit. When this report is in hand a formal apology probably will be made to the British government.

Cahill and Charles Barten, come on either side of Lowell in the picture, and all sing "The Star Spangled Banner," to bring the pageant to a close.

THE MONTH OF BRIDES AND ROSES

June weddings are to be a bit more popular and numerous in Lowell this year than last, judging from the number of marriage license applications filed at the office of the city clerk during the month of May and so far this month. In May and the first seven days of June in 1919 a total of 156 licenses were applied for by prospective June brides and bridegrooms, while in the same period this year 161 couples have given notice of their intention of being wed.

PROHIBITION CONSTITUTIONAL

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Both the federal prohibition amendment and the enforcement act, passed by congress, were held constitutional today by the supreme court. The court dismissed petitions filed by the state of Rhode Island to have federal officials enjoined from enforcing prohibition in that state. The court also dismissed injunction proceedings brought by the state of New Jersey to prevent enforcement of prohibition within that state.

MONTREAL, Que., June 7.—Denunciation of Bolshevism, profiteering, the action of the United States government in invoking the food control law against the late miners' strike, and the failure of the American congress to take action to control the cost of living are among the outstanding features of the annual report of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor presented today to the annual convention here.

MONTREAL, June 7.—Any attempt to enforce compulsory labor by making strikes unlawful, must be resisted at all costs, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, declared here today in his address at the opening of the federation's 40th annual convention.

"I have no fear as to what the results will be," he said. "As long as I have life and my mind is unimpaired, I shall stand for the right of the men and women toilers of the world to be free, untrammelled and unowned by any force."

More than 500 delegates, representing various trades in the federation, were present when the convention was called to order by President Samuel Gompers. Nearly every delegation was prepared to offer resolutions regarding the various questions to come before the federation.

Brilliant Historical Pageant on South Common Depicts Lowell's History in Story and Episode From Indian Days to the Present Time

MISS CATHERINE KELLY (IN CENTRE) AND GROUP OF CAMP FIRE GIRLS AS INDIAN MAIDENS IN THE SUN DANCE

At 6 o'clock this evening, just as late afternoon shadows stretch across the lowlands of the South common, history will turn back its yellow-tinted pages 300 years and there will step therefrom Indian and Colonist, to meet again in parley on almost the identical spot Passaconaway and John Elliot first smoked the peace pipe and firmly established relations of lasting friendship.

Then, in rapid sequence, the events of later years will unfold as 1300 Lowell men, women and children participate in the first historical pageant of any magnitude ever given in the city and in preparation of which at least three months have been consumed.

Regrettable indeed was the fact that the weather was not of the truest summer variety. A 45-hour postponement was necessary because of Saturday's rain storm and while the committee in charge gladly would have procrastinated further, it did not seem advisable to gamble any heavier on the weather man's behavior or to run a chance of wasting public interest.

Never before has Lowell's early history been portrayed through pageant to such an extent. By a prologue and five episodes, events which heretofore have been visualized only as seen on the written pages of history, will assume human and living form as characters true to fact and legend will walk upon the great outdoors stage that the common so adequately affords. Thousands will line the common slopes to watch Passaconaway, Wampanoag, Indian braves and maidens, Preacher Eliot and his men; the peace parley, the snake dance and the dance of the sun; the conversion of Wampanoag and the portrayal of other historical facts in connection with Indian days.

ES. GOMPERS REPLIES

Public Has No Right Superior to Toilers' Right to Fight Oppression

WASHINGTON, June 7 (By the Associated Press).—The public has no right to live and to his right to fight himself against oppression, Mr. Gompers declared in his denials to three questions asked by Governor Allen of Kansas in a debate at New York, May 28. Mr. Gompers replied were made public last night by the American Federation of Labor.

Gov. Allen asked whether the "public" has any rights in strike affecting the production or distribution of the necessities of life, thus threatening the public peace and impairing the public health, and if so how would Mr. Gompers protect those rights. He also asked who controlled the "divine right" of employees to quit work.

Declaring that union men and women formed one-fourth of the public, Mr. Gompers said in such strikes as described by Gov. Allen "the public, including union men, has rights and the striking union is the first to recognize those rights."

He argued, however, that few strikes have been threatened, he said, "usually have been strikes in which the employees or public officials influenced by employers have created the breach of peace by the use of thugs, armed guards and detectives."

"Labor," continued Mr. Gompers, "has no desire to cause inconvenience to the public, of which it is a part. The right to strike must be and will be maintained, not only as a measure of self defense and self advancement, but as a measure necessary to public peace. The strike has won its right to a post of honor among the institutions of free civilization and the temporary inconvenience it has caused is but a small price to pay for the permanent benefits it has brought."

As to Gov. Allen's question regarding who controls the "divine right" to order employees to strike, Mr. Gompers said strikes were "ordered by the majority vote of union members; they are not ordered by officials at will."

Canada's present sugar consumption is estimated to be at the rate of 110 pounds per capita annually, and this amount is continually increasing.

WOMEN TO PICKET THE COMMUNISTS WEAK IN G. O. P. CONVENTION GERMAN ELECTIONS

CHICAGO, June 7.—Politely but impressively picketing of the republican national convention was decided upon yesterday by shock troops of the national women's party here under the leadership of Alice Paul.

The picketing will start Tuesday morning and continue indefinitely. More than 100 women, representing 22 states and every phase of women's activities are carrying banners bearing the names of their states and slogans, and will occupy positions outside the coliseum. Other women will work among delegates from their states in the various state headquarters. Verbal heckling has no place on the program.

Every effort of the suffragists, Miss Paul said yesterday, will be directed toward inducing national leaders to urge the governors of Connecticut and Vermont to call special sessions of the legislatures in those states and pass on suffrage. The legislatures, Miss Paul insisted, are ready to ratify the suffrage amendment if the governors will call the special sessions. None of the suffragists is paying any attention at present to the wording of the proposed suffrage plank in the convention platforms.

The suffrage pioneers, Rev. Olympia Brown of Wisconsin and Mrs. Anna Kendall of Alabama, both over 70 years old, will hold the picket line. Their banner will be inscribed with the words: "How Long Must Women Wait for Liberty?"

The principal banners to be carried bear the following: "We protest against the continued disfranchisement of women for which the republican party has become responsible."

"The republican party defeated ratification in Delaware."

"The republican party is blocking ratification in Connecticut."

"When will the republican party stop blocking suffrage?"

Leaders said yesterday that they expected no interference from the Chicago police. They have not sought permission to picket but they smilingly declare that Chief Garrity is a suffragist even though he is a bachelor.

Should the republicans take the necessary steps to secure ratification by either Connecticut or Vermont as a result of pressure from these candidates, no picketing of the convention will be necessary, it was announced.

Nearly everyone in Berlin who can learn English, with Spanish a good second, both languages being popular with prospective emigrants to North and South America.

BERLIN, June 7.—Unofficial and incomplete returns from the election held yesterday throughout Germany to choose the first republican reichstag indicate unexpected strength by the independent socialists and surprising weakness on the part of the communists. Only in Hanover did the majority socialists poll the number of votes the importance of that organization seemed to foreshadow. In Hamburg, Leipzig, Bremen, Munich and Erfurt, the present dominant political organization ran far behind.

Eleven thousand communist ballots were cast in Munich, that city being the only large place reported up until midnight as having shown any real power by the followers of Lenin and Trotsky. No communist votes were shown in the canvases of the votes in Hamburg and Leipzig.

BERLIN, June 7.—Prince and Princess Eitel Friedrich and Prince Joachim, members of the family of former Emperor William, recorded their votes at Potsdam during yesterday's elections.

Between 30,000 and 40,000 factory workers in Detroit have been put out of work, due to the shortage of raw materials.

WALLY GOES AFTER SASSAFRAS

Nancy and Nick and Tingling, the water I'd make some sassafras tea, if I had any sassafras. "I brought some water," said Wally, chucking into his house to hear why he had put out his children. Tingling "and I'll go to get some sassafras, was still pretty cross, and Wally kept too; the roots are growing down right watching him out of the corner of his eye, because he didn't want to have a bell tied on him (that was the fairy-man's way of punishing the animals in the Land-of-Deer-Knows-Where).

BUT SHE CAME RIGHT DOWN CARRYING A CLEAN HANDKERCHIEF

Wally led her way through a long hall, and down another hall, and ushered them into the living room. Then he called upstairs to Mrs. Woodchuck who was taking a nap. That was why she hadn't heard any of the doorbells ring. But she came right down carrying a clean handkerchief.

"Mrs. Woodchuck," said Wally, "Mr. Tingling came to hear about the children. But we ought to have something to eat and drink first, don't you think?"

"Yes," nodded Mrs. Woodchuck, who was an excellent cook. "If we had any through our kitchen ceiling."

Nick wasn't sure, but he thought he saw Wally wink at Mrs. Woodchuck, and could it be that Mrs. Woodchuck winked back at him? But of course he wasn't exactly sure.

Tingling, who was looking around a bit, had decided on something in the meantime. As he owned the house he knew all about it, so he told Nick to sit where he could watch one hallway, and Nancy where she could watch the other, and he sent the Magical Mushroom outside to watch the kitchen door. Then he sat down near the front hallway himself.

"Why, yes, thank you," he said then sitting down with a jingle. "I'd like very much to have some tea."

LOWELL COMPANY WINS RIFLE SHOOT

A good share of the honors of the shoot of the companies of the 11th regiment of infantry, M.S.G., at the South armory in Boston, Saturday afternoon, were won by Company C of Lowell, under the command of Captain Loring R. Kew. The company won the rifle shoot with a lead of 16 points over its nearest competitor, Company I of Lawrence.

The cup for the highest score was won by Captain Frye of Framingham, who defeated Lieut. Warren Wildman and Sergeant Kershaw of Company C by one point. The shoot-off. In the competitive drill for men in the ranks, Private Gunning of Company K took first place, with Private Walter Draper of Company C, second. Five out of the nine trophies awarded came to the Lowell boys.

LICENSE TO OPERATE MACHINE REVOKED

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, June 7.—Wilfred L. Pigeon of Lowell, who on May 15 was found guilty in the police court of that city of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor stronger than one-half of one per cent, has been notified by the registry division of the department of public works that it has revoked his license to operate a machine. Pigeon has had the license only since March 27.

Three other licensees also have been notified that their permits have been taken from them temporarily. They are Henry Siddley, Oscar P. Cognac and Manuel Joaquim, all of Lowell. Siddley was involved in an accident May 15 last, which resulted in the death of Annie Harrington of East Chelmsford. His license was issued March 23 of this year. Cognac was put under the temporary ban because he allowed a minor to operate his machine, while Joaquim was declared to be a person not fit to operate a motor vehicle. His license was issued a few months ago, while that of Cognac was dated August, 1912.

MASS MEETING THIS EVENING

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Polish bond drive, which was held last evening at the Polish club in Coburn street, plans were formulated for a mass meeting to be held this evening, in the assembly hall of the club, in the interest of the drive. It is expected there will be a large attendance, as some of the national officers are scheduled to be present.

The drive has been very successful so far. Over $16,000 has been collected in cash, while contributions far in excess of that amount have been pledged. It is expected that within a few days, arrangements will be completed by which some local banks will handle partial payments on bonds. The committee is also endeavoring to have next Sunday proclaimed by the state and city as Polish day, as such action was recently taken in New York according to the following telegram received by Jacob Targ, secretary of the local committee, from national headquarters: "A proclamation was issued by Gov. Smith of New York, calling upon all cities to observe June 13 as Polish day to the end that the proposed bond issue of the Polish nation may be successful. Let us show our appreciation of the governor's action by our increased endeavors to make the loan an overwhelming success."

terlocutor, a large share of praise for the success which attended both performances, is due. The chorus was thoroughly familiar with its lines, and the soloists were letter perfect and sang with a spontaneity that was most acceptable.

Preceding the regular program were several movies. In detail, the song festival numbers were as follows:

Prologue, "Let the Rest of the World Go By," opening chorus, "Vamp," "The Land of Make Believe," "When You're Alone," "Soldiers Chorus," entire company, "I Might Be Your Once-in-A-While," Miss Frances O'Donnell, "Dear Old Pat of Mine," Frank Connor, "I'll See You in Cuba," James Kennedy, "When Cherry Blossoms Fall," Miss Beata Gendreau, "I'm Away Ahead of the Times," William McGrath, "Love Blossoms," Mrs. Anastasia McNamara, Tobin, "That's Getting the Beautiful Girls," "Dardanelles," "When the Rain-bow Shines Bright at Morn," "Oh, By Jingo," Crescent Hill double quartet, Henry Carufel, Wilfred Ducharme, James Manning, John Bagley, John R.

Wahoney, Fred Decoteau, Arthur De-lecourt, Omer Decoteau, "All That I Want is You," Edward Donohue, "Jazz Babes' Ball," Miss Alice Dion, "Starlight Love," Miss Emily Gaudette, "Oh, John Keefe," "That Tumble-Down Shack in Athlone," William Mahoney, "You Don't Need the Wine to Have a Wonderful Time," James Manning and chorus.

MAN SHOT DEAD DURING BURGLARY OF STORE

BOSTON, June 7.—Six hours after Salvatore Miceli shot at four men, who he says he took for accomplices of a burglar in his grocery store, 98 George street, Roxbury, early yesterday morning, the dead body of Frederick H. Doherty, 23 years old, of 179 Norfolk avenue, Roxbury, was found face downward a short distance behind the store with a revolver bullet through the right lung.

Miceli told Capt. Perley S. Skillings at the Dudley street police station, that he lives with his wife and six children in an apartment over his store. He locked the store at 11:30 Saturday night, and went upstairs.

THERE ISN'T ANY "JUST AS GOOD."

Nearly an hour later, while he stood in a chair, his wife thought she heard a noise in the store.

He went downstairs, a revolver in his hand, and peered through the store window. Seeing a man behind the counter, he moved around toward the rear of the store and, turning the corner, confronted four men. Taking them for accomplices of the intruder, he ordered them to throw up their hands and fired a shot in the air to scare them. A tonic bottle hurled at his head was his answer.

The bottle cut an ugly gash in the grocer's forehead, and he fired again, this time to hit. The men, he says, fled in various directions, and an outcry from one told him he had not missed.

He reported the incident to the Dudley street station, and an investigation of the premises was made. This showed that glass in the rear door and the front transom was broken and $25 in cash was missing.

The body of Doherty, however, remained unnoticed. The police decided the break in the back door was the hole made by the burglar as he escaped during the shooting outside.

Miceli was charged with manslaughter and released on $2000 bail to appear in the Roxbury court this morning. He identified the body of Doherty as the man who threw the bottle.

The body was found by Patrick Burns of 46 Woodward avenue, and Joseph G. Murphy of 120 George street, and was taken first to the city hospital, where death was declared to have occurred soon after the shot took effect, and then to the southern district mortuary. Medical Examiner Leary performed the autopsy.

It was not until noon that the body was identified by a brother of the dead man. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Doherty, was 23 and served in the 36th Infantry during the war.

Capt. Skillings assigned seven men to the case. The only information that tended to throw any light on it, however, came from a man who went to the station house and volunteered the information that he was with Doherty at 1 o'clock, drinking ginger ale and Jamaica ginger. In the passageway between the grocery store and a fence in the rear.

He declared neither he nor the dead man had anything to do with the alleged burglary. When Miceli came out and fired the first shot, both ran and he did not see Doherty again.

WANTED IN MAINE
Late Saturday, Lieut. Martin Maher and Sergt. Dwyer arrested Lorenzo M. Starbird on a warrant issued in Augusta, Me. The warrant charges him with the theft of a suit case and some clothing from a man in that city. At first, Starbird expressed a desire to fight extradition and the police were considering to hold him as a fugitive from justice, but later he decided to return to Augusta.

News of the Churches

The local Catholic churches observed the feast of Corpus Christi yesterday with the usual elaborate services including a solemn high mass, processions about the aisles and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. At St. Patrick's church an outdoor observance had been planned, but owing to the unfavorable weather, the exercises were held indoors.

The feast of the Sacred Heart will be observed in all the churches next Friday as a day of devotion. Confessions will be heard Thursday and there will be special masses on Friday.

St. Patrick's
Solemn vespers at 7:30 o'clock preceded the annual procession in observance of the feast of Corpus Christi at St. Patrick's church yesterday. Preparations had been made for an outdoor observance but unfavorable weather made this impossible and the procession was restricted to the aisles of the church. In the procession were altar boys, members of the Infant Jesus sodality, the Holy Angels sodality, Sacred Heart sodality, Junior branch of the Holy Name society, Children of Mary sodality, Immaculate Conception sodality, Holy Family sodality, sanctuary choir, flower girls and the officiating clergymen. During the procession the church choir, under the direction of Michael J. Johnson, and the sanctuary choir directed by Brother Nilus, alternated in singing the "Pange Lingua." A triduum will be opened at this church next Wednesday and will close on Friday.

St. Peter's
Rev. Peter T. Linehan celebrated the solemn high mass at St. Peter's church yesterday in connection with the observance of the feast of Corpus Christi. Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan, assisted as deacon and Rev. Francis L. Shea as sub-deacon. The pastor, Rev. Daniel J. Keleher, Ph. D., preached the sermon. Following the mass the usual procession was held about the aisles of the church with the officiating clergymen, altar boys and children of the parish participating. Confessions will be heard next Thursday evening only in preparation for the feast of the Sacred Heart on Friday. Masses on that day will be at 8 and 7.

Immaculate Conception
Members of the Holy Rosary sodality received communion at the 8 o'clock mass at the Immaculate Conception church yesterday. The high mass at 11 o'clock was celebrated by Rev. J. B. McCartin, O.M.I., and he was assisted by Rev. Dennis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., as deacon and Rev. Owen P. McQuaid, O.M.I., as sub-deacon. Rev. Lawrence F.

Tighe, O.M.I., the pastor, made the announcements. At 6:30 last evening the usual Corpus Christi procession was held with members of the clergy, altar boys and members of the various parish societies taking part. A 40 hours devotion will be opened at this church with a solemn high mass at 8 o'clock Friday and will be brought to a close at the late mass Sunday.

Sacred Heart
Following a solemn high mass at the Sacred Heart church at 11 o'clock yesterday the usual Corpus Christi procession was held about the aisles with the clergymen officiating at the mass, altar boys and members of the sanctuary choir taking part. The services were largely attended. At the 7:30 o'clock mass members of the Holy Rosary sodality received communion. Next Friday a 40 hours devotion will be opened at 9 o'clock with a solemn high mass and will come to a close at the late mass Sunday. Masses on Friday will be at 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 o'clock. There will be a sermon on the Sacred Heart Friday evening.

St. Michael's
Rev. Thomas J. Heagney celebrated the parish mass at St. Michael's church yesterday and he was assisted by Rev. John J. Shaw, the pastor, as deacon, and Rev. James F. Lynch as sub-deacon. Rev. Francis J. Mullin was master of ceremonies and Rev. Fr. Lynch preached the sermon. Following the mass a procession was held about the aisles of the church with the officiating clergymen, altar boys and members of the sanctuary choir participating. The feast of the Sacred Heart will be observed on Friday. Masses will be at 5:15 and 7 o'clock. Confessions will be heard Thursday evening only. Attention is called to the fact that there will be no confessions heard Thursday afternoon.

St. Margaret's
At the 7:30 o'clock mass at St. Margaret's church yesterday members of the Women's sodality received communion in a body. Rev. Charles J. Galligan, the pastor, was the celebrant. Rev. Stephen Murray sang the high mass. Confessions will be heard Thursday afternoon and evening and on Friday, the feast of the Sacred Heart, mass will be celebrated at 7:30.

St. Columba's
Rev. James P. Somers sang the late mass at St. Columba's church yesterday and the pastor, Rev. Patrick J. Hally, celebrated the early masses of the day. Members of the Women's sodality received communion at the 7:30 o'clock mass.

St. Chelmsford Church
At the 8:30 o'clock mass at St. John's church, North Chelmsford yesterday morning 50 boys and girls received their first communion. The celebrant of the mass was Rev. Fr. Linnahan and during the service appropriate hymns were sung by the children's choir, under the direction of the Sisters of Notre Dame, who are in charge of the Sunday school at the church.

STAGE CONCERT AND MUSICAL REVUE

The Lowell Letter Carriers' Relief association will stage a concert and musical revue in the Strand theatre tonight, in aid of the carriers' sick fund. One of the features will be the singing of John P. Roane, Sr., who will entertain with some of the songs of 30 years ago, which he sang as the headliner of the Burke Temperance institute concerts. The other old-timers will include David

P. Martin. The following soloists, John B. Doyle, Donohue, Fred Campbell, Charles Carey, J. Eugene Mullin, Thomas Finnegan, William L. Howard, Sadie Sheehan, Miss Alice Donohue, Miss Margaret McQuillan and Mae Bradley. There will be a chorus of 50.

James Doyle of this city, featured at the Winter Garden, N. Y. and also with Julia Anderson, will entertain also.

It was at that time that someone advised me to try RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women. As soon as I had taken the first few boxes I felt much better, as I was gradually getting stronger and regaining my health. After taking them for two months, very regularly, I was rewarded by a complete recovery. Therefore I am happy to be able to recommend these Pills, which have meant so much to me.

A few years ago I underwent an operation, which left me extremely weak and caused me great worry.

Women Designed It!

How should an electric iron be made to best fit women's needs? This is a question that none can answer better than women. That's why in producing this brand new six and one-half pound iron, Westinghouse enlisted the aid of women.

Women suggested a plug that can be easily removed, yet never slips out. Women proposed that the edge of the iron should be beveled, the better to look down on the work. Women determined the shape and the finish.

You'll find the new Westinghouse Electric Iron on sale wherever you see the Westinghouse name or trademark in the window.

After-the-War Cotton Congress

BERNE, June 7.—One hundred and thirty delegates representing 14 nations, will participate in the deliberations of the first after-the-war congress, which will be held in Zurich from June 9 to June 11. The congress, which will be held in Zurich from June 9 to June 11, will discuss the problems of exchange, progress made in the culture of cotton and the assistance given by scientists in the industry, will be discussed during the meeting. Proposals have been made for an arbitration tribunal, which will work for better legislation governing the industry and which will strive to improve the condition of workers.

PARIS, June 7.—Premier Millerand will visit the devastated regions of France during July, and inspect reconstruction work in progress.

Annual Report of A. F. of L.

Continued

The last year, was also presented "a special program for remedy." The Cummins railroad law was denounced, as was the Kansas law establishing the court of industrial relations. The high cost of living was largely at the door of "big profits" while the report declared the United States government, principally through the department of justice, had conducted a campaign of stupidity.

Supreme Intervention in Mexico

Congress was assailed for cutting appropriations designed to carry on the work of the collateral branches of the department of labor and for various proposals, such as the sedition bill, which the report says the labor movement was instrumental in defeating.

In its references to the foreign field, the report denounced what it characterized as propaganda for American intervention in Mexico and declared that the executive council sees "no justification for interference," which it argues would be in the interest of the exploitation of its workers, and its boundless wealth of oil and minerals.

U. S. Steel Police Strike

The United States Steel corporation was assailed for its refusal to deal with labor organizations in the recent unsuccessful strike, and the assumption of Boston also were denounced for their attitude in the celebrated strike of policemen in that city. The workmen of Canada were con-existing conditions the council's report proposed the following:

"We demand that the government be authorized to buy standard commodities direct from producers and that these commodities be distributed through regular retail channels at a retail price to be fixed by the government."

"We demand that this power be made use of as a corrective for profiteering and we call attention to the fact that the government has established a precedent for such action in its sales of surplus war supplies."

Would Solve War Profits

"We demand that the federal government through the internal revenue department ascertain the amount of excessive war profits extorted from the American people during the years 1914, 1917, 1918, 1919 and 1920 and that these excessive war profits be taken through its taxing power by the federal government and applied to the extinguishment of the floating debt of the government and to the partial retirement of Liberty bonds at par in order that the existing inflated structure of currency and credit may be reduced and that the government may carry out its sacred obligation to the people to maintain its Liberty and Victory bonds at par."

To Curb Profiteering

"Co-operation should be encouraged as an effective means of curbing profiteering. To stimulate rapid development of co-operatives, the federal farm loan act should be extended so as to give credit to all properly organized co-operatives, just as credit is now given to individual farmers. Co-operation is no less vital and worthy of support than are the railroads, which were given hundreds of millions of dollars and an area of land equal to New England to facilitate their establishment. There should be legal enactment to protect co-operatives against discrimination by manufacturers and wholesalers."

Control of Credit

"Control of credit capital by those whose chief interest is the accumulation of profits results inevitably in the open door for profiteering. We repeat and emphasize the demand of organized labor that control of credit be taken from the hands of private financiers and placed in the hands of a public agency to be administered by voluntary and co-operative methods."

For Investigation Board

"As a means of aiding these and other anti-profiteering measures, the federal government should be authorized to establish permanent boards for prompt investigation of profits and prices. All income and other tax returns should be available for inspection."

"We do not demand, nor do we desire, a precipitate collapse in prices generally, for in such a collapse there would be the greatest danger of national calamity. The program we have here laid before the nation is constructive and is practical. Because it is constructive and practical, because it contains measures native to American life and American thought, we urge and demand for it the immediate and effective consideration of the people and of the authorities of our country."

C. of L. Must Go No Higher

"The cost of living must go no higher. Wages must be advanced in every case to a point at which the American standard of living is secure. The life and the productive capacity of the great farming community, now stricken sorely, must be brought back to the richness that has marked it above the agriculture of all other nations. This will be possible only when the vicious forces that load the values of the farm with fictitious and fabulous profits have been curbed and made powerless."

Enforce Action With Ballots

"Finally we call attention to the vital fact that the present non-partisan political campaign of the A. F. of L. offers to the people everywhere an opportunity to enforce remedial measures through their ballots. The enemies of the workers are upon the platform of the nation seeking political preferment. Defeat them. Defeat enemies everywhere. Let righteous wrath and indignation find its expression in constructive effort and in the intelligent use of that greatest of democracy's weapons, the ballot. Press upon every candidate everywhere the wisdom of labor's constructive program. Defeat enemies. Elect friends. The national future is in the devoted keeping of the working people."

Memorable Loss of Life

In a summary of "The essential facts of the present industrial situation," the report refers to the momentous loss of life and productive power and the rapid consumption of many basic materials. It asserts that these are responsible for much of the shortage of commodities now experienced.

"Evidence in possession of the Trade Union movement is that workers today are as willing to work as ever and that their productive capacity is as great if not greater than ever," the report states. It declares that the industries which have operated since the war to check production "are under the control of employers and not of the workers," and it adds:

"Insofar as possible employers hostile to labor have sought to reintroduce autocratic control into industry, making necessary a resistance on the part of the workers. Labor has enunciated the principle that the workers are entitled to an effective voice in the management and control of industry. To a larger degree than ever before, this principle was agreed to by employers during the war. It was found that it produced results of great value in the winning of the war. It made industry more productive."

Industry today requires these remedial measures:

Greater Democracy in Industry

"It requires greater democracy in order to give to the workers full voice in assisting in its direction."

"It requires more intelligent management and acceptance of the principle that production is for use and not for profit alone."

"It requires bold and audacious re-use of the best that invention has to offer."

"It requires bold and audacious reconstruction of method and process in the conduct of basic industries."

"Labor does not oppose introduction of improved methods in industry. It courts and encourages improvements in processes and in machinery. What it will always resist is the introduction of these processes and this machinery at the expense of the workers."

"There is a knowledge of industry among the workers in industry of which society has not begun to avail itself. The effort has been to suppress use of that knowledge and to keep the workers who possess it. The workers know their work as none but the workers can know it. The shoemaker knows his last and the engineer understands the capacity of his engine."

Workers Appalled at Waste

"The workers are appalled at the waste and ignorance of management, but they are too frequently denied the chance to offer their knowledge for use."

"They decline to be enslaved by the use of their own knowledge and they cannot give of it freely or effectively except as equals in industry, with all of the rights and privileges and with all of the stature and standing of employers."

"Adoption of the principle of voluntary effort, of full co-operation in industry, will bring to the industrial life of the nation such an impetus that production will cease forever to be a problem in American life."

"Adoption of the principles we here urge will inevitably result in rapid decrease of the number of non-productive who at present live by fastening themselves in one useless capacity or another upon the industrial life of the country. Proper absorption of non-productive into useful channels would be a simple problem."

For Co-operative Effort

"We urge the setting up of conference boards of organized workers and employers, thoroughly voluntary in character and in thorough accord with our trade union organizations, as means of promoting the democracy of industry through development of co-operative effort. We point out to employers the fact that industry, which is the life blood of our civilization, cannot be made the plaything and the pawn of a few who by chance today hold control. Industry is the thing by which all must live and it must be given the opportunity to function as its best."

"Labor turn-over is but one of the evils which will disappear in proportion as the workers are given voice in management. This is proven by statistics which show the lowest turn-over in those industries where the workers exercise the most effective voice by reason of the highest degree of organization."

Salvation of Industry

"We propose the salvation of industry. We propose the means whereby the world may be fed and clothed and housed and given happiness. We have service to give and if permitted to give freely and on terms of manhood and equality we will give in abundance. We cannot be driven as slaves, but we can give mighty service in a common effort of humankind."

On the subject of Bolshevism and other extremist propaganda, the report has this to say:

"During the year just passed the labor movement has found its ground solidly and making the progressive, constructive policy which has marked it apart from most of the labor movements of the world throughout the whole period of the world war."

Bolshevism Denounced

"But the nation has witnessed sporadic outbreaks of extremist sentiment and has been compelled to deal with extremist propaganda in a number of cases since the war period came to an end. This tendency toward unreasoned conduct and unreasoned thought has been most unfortunate for the nation and still more unfortunate for those who have been the participants."

"Bolshevism has been a lure for some of our people and its doctrines have been propagated with great vigor. This hideous doctrine has found converts among two classes of people principally—those intellectuals so-called, who have no occupation save that of following one fad after another, and those who beaten in the game of life that they find no appeal in anything except the most desperate and illogical schemes. The rank and file of the organized labor movement, as was to have been expected, has given no contentment to the propaganda of Bolshevism, but has, on the contrary, been its most effective opponent in America."

Revolutionary Propaganda

"The propaganda of revolutionary thought has not been limited to the propaganda of Bolshevism. It has taken other forms. The 'one big union' idea has had its adherents, despite the disastrous results of the experiment in Canada with its treacherous machinery during the year preceding our 1918 convention. It is gratifying to note that everywhere the ostensible strength of this propaganda has been lost and that its fallacies are daily becoming clearer to its former victims."

"Of more importance than the results of studied propaganda of revolution and extremism is the feeling of unrest among our people which is due to abuses in our political and industrial life and which seeks relief and freedom and not revolution and catastrophe."

"The written and spoken propaganda of unreason and extremism can be met and defeated by truth. But legitimate unrest, growing out of conditions of injustice, can be met and overcome only by intelligent dealing with conditions. Those who drink from a poisoned well will be poisoned until the well itself is cleaned."

Covering nearly 250 closely printed pages the report makes references to almost every phase of the organized labor movement.

500 Delegates Attend Session

resolutions would deal with the political situation in the United States, the high cost of living, profiteering, Bolshevism and the "one big union." President Wilson's foreign policy, industrial courts, public ownership of railroads and impeachment of Attorney General Palmer.

To Discuss Irish Question

The Irish question also will be injected into the convention by delegates of Irish descent. These delegates said they would hold a caucus, probably tonight, to decide on their program, asserting they would ask the convention to endorse Ireland's fight for freedom and demand the withdrawal of British troops from Erin's soil.

The opening of the convention was preceded by a labor parade to the St. Denis theatre, where the sessions are being held. After a short religious service, addresses of welcome were delivered by representatives of the dominion government, provincial government, city of Montreal trades council and labor congress of Canada. Antonin Galpenault, minister of public works and labor of Quebec, spoke for the province. President Gompers replied to the welcoming addresses and formally opened the convention business session by reviewing the various issues involved. He laid particular stress on the enforcement of a non-partisan labor policy.

Gompers To Leave for Chicago

He will leave tonight for Chicago, to lay before the republican national convention resolutions committees, labor's desires in political reform. In his absence, Matthew Woll, vice president, probably will preside. The resolutions committee announced it would accept resolutions until tomorrow night. More than 150 resolutions were ready for presentation. The federation's membership report disclosed that it now has 4,078,746 members, a gain of $18,673 in the last year. The recent steel strike cost the federation $348,609. According to a report on steel strike expenditures, there is still $69,831 available for steel organization work.

Fight for Plumb Plan

Delegates from the Pacific coast metal trades council announced today they would renew the fight begun at Atlantic City last year, to obtain unqualified endorsement of the Plumb plan on railroad control.

Discussing the proposal to demand impeachment of Attorney General Palmer for alleged "imperialism," some delegates said that as they are on foreign soil, the attorney general and other American officials might be discussed without fear of arrest and prosecution.

THE FUNERAL OF REV. JAMES GILDAY

The funeral of Rev. James Gilday, the former Lowell priest who died in Marblehead last week, was held in that city Saturday morning and was largely attended by priests, friends and relatives from all parts of the state, including many Lowell people. A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at 10 o'clock at the Star of the Sea church by Rev. William McDonough of East Boston, assisted by Rev. Timothy Holland of Malden as deacon and Rev. James Walsh of Boston as sub-deacon. Bishop Anderson presided at the services. Rev. John J. Gilday of Lawrence, a brother of the deceased, was seated in the sanctuary. A special musical program was given by a choir made up of priests. In all, there were 62 priests present at the mass. Rev. Philip O'Donnell of St. James' church, Boston, a lifelong friend of Rev. Fr. Gilday, delivered a very striking eulogy. The church was crowded during the mass and in the funeral procession which followed members of the various societies of the parish took part. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery in Marblehead. It had been planned to bring the body to Lowell for burial but members of Rev. Fr. Gilday's parish petitioned to have it kept in that city and plans are underway to erect a monument in his memory.

FINANCIAL STATION

OF POSTOFFICE

The following letter relative to the establishment of a down-town postal sub-station has been received by President Goodell of the Lowell chamber of commerce:

W. N. Goodell, Esq., President of the Lowell Chamber of Commerce, Lowell, Massachusetts.

My Dear Sir:—I desire to ask your cooperation as a member of the Lowell chamber of commerce, in the establishment of a financial station of the postoffice in the down-town district to take the place of the contract station now in operation in the Liggett company's drug store at 67 Marion street, but which will be discontinued on June 30th next, owing to a change in the policy of the Liggett company in conducting such post office sub-stations in their stores.

The idea of establishing in our business district a financial station with its manifold conveniences, so expressed me that on April 5th I recommended the project to the department at Washington. Accordingly, a post office inspector was delegated to this city to survey the situation and submit a report. As a result of his visit a special notice has been issued for the establishment of a financial station in the down-town district. The proposals for the furnishing of suitable quarters for such a postal station. A copy of this notice is enclosed. It will be seen that the time for submitting proposals expires June 16th. Unfortunately, as far as I know, no proposal has yet been received. The difficulty of securing a room in the vicinity of the present station, or at least somewhat contiguous to Merrimack square.

It occurs to me that the chamber of commerce by taking this matter up earnestly as a community affair, of vital interest to the business welfare of the city, touching also the accommodation of thousands of the general public who for years have enjoyed the advantage of a contract station, might bring about the desired result. It is necessary for me to dwell upon the benefits ensuing from the operation of a financial station at or near the retail business center of the city. The volume of business done at the present station for many years past is sufficient evidence of the success of the station, and the interest in it of its many thousand patrons.

I may add that the cost of the equipment mentioned in the proposal will not be in excess of $2000; it will be approximately that should be determined also that the advertisement does not bind the postoffice department to the establishment of a station; that is largely dependent upon the location which is offered and the amount of rental charged.

Awaiting with interest such action as the Lowell chamber of commerce may take in the matter and hoping sincerely that it may be effective in establishing this great public benefit.

Very truly yours
John F. Meehan, Postmaster.

BAY STATE PARTY'S WET GOODS SEIZED

CHICAGO, June 7.—The seizure of many quarts of liquor belonging to the Massachusetts delegates may prove a severe blow to the prohibition cause in the convention. All of the Massachusetts delegates had planned to support strongly a plank in the platform commending the prohibition law and demanding strict enforcement, but now renunciation is so keen that the wets may gain a few votes. The delegates feel they were betrayed in the house of their friends and as good prohibitionists they should not have been molested.

However, the resentment may die down and the full vote of the delegation be polled in favor of the prohibition plank.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Musically, deliberately, calmly Clayton the Mystic, a quoted East Indian crystal gazer, will pick up little cards at the B. F. Keith theatre this week, beginning today, and will see beyond them into the past and into the future. Clayton will give to all comers the opportunity to test out his phenomenal powers of seeing. Ask him anything for the chances are that he will be perfectly able to answer the question satisfactorily. There is one feature of his work which is noteworthy. He never ruffles, never offends, never plays with ones troubles or worries. If answers that are unpleasant must be given he will put them in such a way that will mean soothing the harassed person. Clayton is a real East Indian who decided that his name in his native tongue was wholly unpronounceable by Occidentals. He was intimately connected with Prof. George Clayton, the eminent Oxford and Cambridge scholar, and when the latter lost his life on a vessel which was torpedoed in the Mediterranean, this East Indian took it. His first name, Henri, is derived from the French word for tiger, who was formerly premier of France. Clayton has studied for years at the occult sciences, and today he stands unrivaled as a public exponent of crystal gazing. He is tall and straight, rather taciturn of countenance, and quietly business-like in his work. There are no idle passes for the mere killing of time. He settles down to the business in hand, concentrates on his subjects, and then proceeds to answer questions. Once in a while a humorous strain will appear, and this is given in its natural medium. For the greater part, however, all is quietly serious.

Six other good acts on this bill will give to everybody his full of real entertainment for the last week of the season. "Skeet" Gallagher and Irene Sullivan will appear in their lively musical comedy episode. These two dance and sing and play and entertain. Gallagher was formerly with "Little Miss Fix-it" and "The Rose Maid," while Miss Sullivan was one of the dainty singers in Gus Edwards' Song Revue.

Harry Bensee and Florence Baird are not unknown through their Yankee Scotch mixture called "Songflage," and it is said that they have added a lot to their act since they were last here.

"Our wife" is the little comedy which Harry Austin Bond & Co. will present. It is a plain, laugh-studded little piece which is very true after all. First rate banjoists Charles Howard and Kitty Rose, and Henna and Cavanaugh are singing and dancing performers. A former Lowell resident, Rekoma, will do some surprisingly difficult equilibrium stunts.

brides. His real name is Michael Chachsky. In addition there will be the piano, Topics of the Day and a scenic picture.

THE OWL THEATRE

Today marks the opening performance of "The Idol Dancer," the Griffith master picture that has caught like wildfire everywhere. Lowell can see it all this week at the Owl theatre at the usual moderate Owl theatre prices, while other cities are obliged to pay more for it. This policy is the result of the good business management of the Liberty Amusement company with a chain of theatres running from Fall River to Newburyport and all points between, including Lowell. The Liberty company is in the open market, and is out for the best. With its long chain of theatres, which means a continuous run for a picture, they are able to get them. First National pictures are recognized by many as the best in the market today, and the Liberty company, which means the Owl theatre, has them. "The Idol Dancer" will remain all week, and while the dance scenes are going on, no one will be able to turn away from the dance those already seated, for the dance is really thrilling. Critics describe it as a masterpiece in this part as half Persian, half Japanese, and the rest of the movie world. In the picture, also, Richard Barthelmess as the beach comber and Creighton Hale as the Persian youth do great work. The usual generous bill of added attractions will also be given, and while the added attractions will change Thursday, the big feature will play out the week.

MEMORIAL SQUARE THEATRE
Photoplay fans who recall the luxurious beauty of Gloria Swanson in "Male and Female" will hardly recognize her in the opening scenes of the new Cecil B. de Mille production, "Way Outward." This picture, which opened a week's engagement at the Memorial Square theatre this afternoon, Miss Swanson has the role of a too-wisely wife, who neglects her beauty for her home, wears unbecoming clothes and can't keep her husband home at night. However, after a friend husband, played by the likable Thomas Meighan, has wandered off with a designing woman, she realizes what has lost him and blooms forth into a bewitching woman. "Why Chance Your Wife" is an excellent story excellently produced. Mr. and Mrs. Carter de Haven in "Waiting Chances," the International News & Comedy and a better picture round out the bill. Have you entered the Memorial Square essay contest yet? See details in another column.

EXAMINATION FOR RURAL CARRIER
The United States civil service commission has announced an examination for the county of Middlesex to be held at Ayer, Lowell, Concord Junction and Framingham, on June 23, to fill the position of rural carrier at Westford, and vacancies that may later occur on rural routes from other postoffices in the above mentioned county. The examination will be open only to citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of a postoffice in the county and who meet the other requirements set forth in form number 1917. Both men and women, if qualified, may enter this examination, but appointing officers have the legal right to specify the sex desired in requesting certification of eligibles. Women will not be considered for rural carrier appointment unless they are the widows of United States soldiers, sailors or marines, or the wives of United States soldiers, sailors or marines who are physically disqualified for examination by reason of injuries received in the line of military duty.

A match factory to be owned and managed entirely by women is the goal of a group of women of Canton, China, who are trying to raise $600,000 for the purpose.

ITALIAN BATTALION ANNIHILATED
LONDON, June 7.—Albanian insurgents have annihilated an Italian battalion near Alessio, and Italian warships have shelled that city, according to a Vienna despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co. quoting a report from Belgrade. Other shelling is said to have occurred near Scutari and Avlona, where the Italians have been forced to retreat.

14 KILLED, 100 INJURED BY EXPLOSION
LONDON, June 7.—Fourteen persons were killed, several others were injured and many buildings destroyed by the explosion of 80 carloads of explosives in a suburban station of Turin Saturday night, according to Rome dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company.

A despatch to the Central News says that the explosion occurred in Port Pampalao Montecenis, northwest of Turin. Beside the 14 persons killed, 100 were injured the despatch adds.

Direct losses due to strikes in 1919 are placed at $725,000,000 to labor in wages, and $1250,000,000 to industry.

BRITISH WARSHIPS FIRE ON TURK NATIONALISTS

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—British warships opened fire on nationalist positions near Toulza, on the Sea of Marmora, 33 miles west of Ismid, late Friday night. Constantinople was aroused by the heavy firing of the guns of the British warships. The nationalists had approached close to the British entrenchments along the Gulf of Ismid, where many British units are stationed to protect the troops guarding the railway. The collapse of the sultan's troops leaves the British alone to defend the railway terminals opposite Constantinople. Many Armenian and Greek refugees have entered Ismid after escaping from the nationalists.

Turks Take French Prisoners
CONSTANTINOPLE, June 3, (By the Associated Press.)—It is reported that the Turks captured Bozanti, north of Adana, on May 30, taking prisoner a large number of French. The Turks are now free to turn their entire strength in that area against Adana, Tarsus and Mersina, but say they do not want to take these towns lest they incur the ill-will of the British and Americans.

The inadequacy of railroad transportation offers a strong argument in favor of a navigable waterway to the sea, which, let us hope, will be realized at some future day.

It would seem that the prison authorities of the state might devise ventilators to afford ample change of air without offering prisoners a means of escape. Fingering is out again and no one knows just when he'll be in again.

It is to be hoped that some benefit will come to New England from that resolution for investigation of the bituminous coal supply brought forward by Senator Walsh. The interstate commerce commission is authorized to investigate the conditions of production and transportation in order to ascertain the cause of the shortage with a view to having it removed.

FREIGHT PROBLEMS

Shortage of railroad cars is one of the chief difficulties with which the roads and the country have to contend. Companies are unwilling to send out cars to a great distance, feeling that they will not be promptly returned. It is charged that some companies hold the cars for other companies for service for a few days or a week after being supplied; and this delay is a source of expense to the company to which the cars belong.

Under such a state of affairs, it would seem that a traffic bureau such as is proposed by the local chamber of commerce with a practical railroad man in charge could accomplish much in the direction of overcoming delayed deliveries due to congestion resulting from mismanagement or lack of proper shipping facilities.

IN A NEW FIELD

To Miss Dorothy Maria Burbeck belongs the honor of being the first young woman to graduate from the Lowell-Textile school with a degree. She also won a first prize for her thesis in the largest class—numbering 282 persons—that has ever left the school.

Miss Burbeck's selection of a field in which to work may be the forerunner of the entrance of others of her sex into the higher-paid positions in the textile industry. In the past, women in the mills have been employed mostly in the offices or at occupations that called for only a small amount of technical training. In the positions they have filled they have proved themselves capable and efficient workers.

If Massachusetts is to retain its lead in the manufacture of fabrics it must be largely as a result of the trained hands and brains that are engaged in the work. There is no good reason why women should not supply both of these. They have won places of the highest responsibility for themselves in other branches of industry, why not in the mills?

WORK OF RENT SHARKS

That was a very sad case in which a mother in Dorchester killed herself and three children by asphyxiation because she had been ordered from the tenement she occupied and could find none to which she could move. Unfortunately she became despondent and decided to end it all.

While suicide can never be excused this case should, nevertheless, direct attention to the conditions of the housing conditions generally. Similar situations may arise in this city where rent profiteers attempt to impose upon people who have no protection.

It is time the authorities in every city adopted some means of helping such families when threatened with being thrown on the street. In the case referred to, the family had held the house under a mortgage which was foreclosed and they lost it. In cases where tenement property is sold over and over again many times, the rent being increased each time, the occupants are simply coerced into payment of rents which are altogether too high. There should be some law to apply to such profiteers. Any case of the kind found in this city should be reported to Mayor Thompson.

G. O. P. CONVENTION

"Badly demoralized" is the only phrase that properly fits the republicans entering the convention at Chicago. If harmony can be evolved from such a discordant aggregation, the leaders will have accomplished a wonderful feat. Wood and Lowden enter the convention tarred with the dollar mark and Hiram Johnson is there as the leading dyed-in-the-wool American. Penrose, the great operator of the steam roller, is not there, but he will endeavor to have his lieutenant run the machine in his absence.

Ex-Senator Crane of this state will use his influence for Wood, at least until he sees that candidate's chances vanishing; and then he can be relied upon to have a leading part in selecting one of the dark horses as the nominee.

The great thorn in the side of the convention is Hiram Johnson whose popularity cannot be overlooked. Hiram may bolt this party if the leaders attempt to rout him and his followers by steam roller methods. He is a fearless warrior and it is safe to predict that he will fight to the last ditch not only on the League of Nations, but upon other issues on which he has taken a decided stand.

The Sun will be well covered on convention news not only by The Associated Press, but by special correspondents of the Newspaper Enterprise association, all men of the most varied experience in such national gatherings.

PREVENTABLE FIRES

With the great scarcity of timber and the high price of lumber and wood pulp, there is more reason than ever to guard against forest fires.

With the approach of hot weather, it is in order to caution children and others to be more careful than ever not to start fires in woods which are liable to spread and do immense damage.

Already American forests are fast disappearing and although appeals are made to the public, very little is done to bring about reforestation. Fully one-third of all the fires in dwellings are strictly preventable, another third is partly preventable and of the remaining third, the cause is unknown.

In case of forest fires, the vast majority are preventable; and the main causes are sparks from locomotives, fires started by boys and campers or hunters for amusement, or through the careless habit of throwing down lighted matches, cigar stubs and cigarettes.

The destruction of forests annually in this country reaches alarming proportions. It is estimated that the total fire loss on dwellings in this country in 1918 was $64,150,474, the chief causes of which were defective chimneys and flues, stoves, furnaces and boilers, or their pipes, electric wires, exposure to conflagrations and lightning. Arson is another cause of fires but not frequent in Lowell. Its chief nature is revenge or an effort to get money from insurance companies. Those who resort to this scheme are sometimes caught in ways which they never suspected.

Everywhere there is need of the utmost precaution against fires. We have far too few homes now and the destruction of any of them by fire would be a very serious matter.

THE DIVORCE EVIL

Preachers have thundered denunciations of the divorce evil. Many organizations have passed resolutions condemning it. Statisticians say that about every tenth marriage in this country ends in a petition to a court for the surrendering of the marriage tie. Yet there is no reliable evidence that divorces are growing less frequent.

During the last two weeks the superior court, sitting in Lowell, has been engaged in granting divorces during the several hours each day that it has been in session. One judge has been engaged in hearing the cases all the time, and another part of the time. The divorces have gone through with regularity and despatch at the rate possibly of one every fifteen or twenty minutes. Some of the hearings have been so brief that they have seemed to spectators that they had scarcely begun before they were ended.

The courts are not to be blamed for the ease and speed with which the divorce machinery of the commonwealth operates. The judges are bound to act in accordance with the laws as they find them on the statute books. They cannot well act contrary to the testimony of sworn witnesses even if they realize that strong self-interest, prejudice and relationship or close friendship for the parties in interest color if they do not actually distort and misrepresent facts.

Both of the judges who have been trying divorce cases in Lowell have shown an earnest desire to get at the real facts in each case as far as possible and to protect the interests of society as a whole by seeing that the provisions of law are justly applied.

This is very far, however, from remedying or even minimizing the evil. For a remedy to be effective, we must undoubtedly look first to an aroused public sentiment which will regard the evil of promiscuous divorces in the light in which they should be viewed as a menace to the standards of morality and decency upon which our whole social structure rests.

Until such an aroused public sentiment exists, it might be well for the people of Massachusetts to consider the possible adoption of a method that has proved successful in other states in abolishing some of the most glaring faults connected with the present system of granting divorces.

This method involves the employment of an official who shall appear in the public interest to contest all petitions for divorce which otherwise would be uncontested, provided that after a thorough investigation, he believes there are sufficient and proper grounds for such a contest.

This would do away with the collusion which, it is believed, now exists with more or less frequency between the parties in divorce actions and would go far towards putting an end to the granting of divorces on ex parte testimony. If it offers a means of minimizing the divorce evil, it should certainly be adopted.

ENGLAND AND RUSSIA

Gregory Krassin, minister of the Russian soviet government, is in London with a view to getting the blockade lifted and trade resumed with the allies. Premier Lloyd George wants "certain guarantees" and for a private understanding on points involving British interests, he is to confer with the Bolshevik diplomat.

France is utterly opposed to any plan of lifting the blockade against the Bolsheviks as any such step will add to their powers of making war on Poland and other states on the western frontier of Russia.

But the most remarkable and most despicable feature of these negotiations so far as England is concerned is that this soviet minister goes first to London to hold secret conference with the British premier and offer certain guarantees in lieu of England's aid in securing for Russia an opportunity to resume trade relations with other European nations.

When Lloyd George has made his arrangements with the soviet representative, he will then call a session of the allied council and plead with that body, which he largely dominates, to negotiate with the representative of Trotsky and Lenin. What guarantees are wanted by the British premier may be judged by a recent London despatch which said:

"Replying to a flood of insistent queries in parliament, the premier said there were certain questions Great Britain wanted cleared out of the way before it would undertake negotiations at all. Russia must guarantee that there will be no attacks on British interests in the east or at home while negotiations are proceeding. Mr. Lloyd George declared, and must guarantee to release all British prisoners, whether civil or military. Great Britain must clear these questions out of the way herself, the premier added, after which allied negotiations could proceed."

This is it mainly to protect and promote British interests that it is proposed to enter into negotiations with soviet Russia. When England gets what she wants, then she will induce the allies to join her in giving Minister Krassin a pledge of what Russia wants. Thus the other allies are merely British pawns.

Is this the manner in which England means to use the League of Nations later on to promote her own interests at the expense of other nations?

At the present time the Bolshevik forces are in Persia ready to move on India. That is where the British shoe pinches, and doubtless one of the guarantees which the premier will demand is, that the menace to India will stop.

In their eastern campaign the soviet forces have certainly shown ingenuity. They have brought England to terms and now even at the sacrifice of French interests and in spite of French protests, it is proposed to establish trade relations with Russia. This means that each of the allies is to become a supporter of the Bolshevik regime. It is another example of the manner in which England will compromise with the greatest enemies of civilization, if, by so doing, she can gain a point of vantage for her interests. It was by such a policy in the past that she held Turkey in Europe and deprived Russia of an outlet to the sea through the Dardanelles.

Just how far the other allies will side with England in aiding Russia remains to be seen; they are too much in her debt to oppose her wishes outright. The outcome will bear watching.

Bolshevik Russia may be in a bad way; her people undoubtedly need relief; but it is not the humane aspect of the case that moves the British premier to take the lead in making friends with soviet Russia. After this step, the next would be to take Russia in as a member of the League of Nations on an equal footing with the other members.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

It's amusing to note how vitally interested clerks at city hall become in the most minute item of news concerning their positions that may be published in the local papers. Perhaps it is but natural that they should be deeply interested in their own welfare as we all are, but in some offices the clerks are so much out of touch with certain phases of municipal affairs or else so exclusively absorbed in their own work that even members of the municipal council are sometimes strangers to them. Business of momentous import may be transacted by the city council and duly chronicled and nary a bit of interest is manifested. But let the briefest possible item concerning the clerks themselves make its way into print and immediately the building becomes a hotbed of speculation—mental and total, of course. Last week a story was published to the effect that there was under consideration a plan to regulate clerks' salaries on a sliding scale by ordinance. At once practically every office resolved into a veritable forum of discussion. Here was real news and the clerks "ate it up." Who suggested the ordinance, what would the tenure be, what salaries would be established and a store of other questions immediately were fired into the ears of the reporters who had dutifully recorded the story and within 48 hours after the story news appeared letters were being forwarded to officials in other cities asking for information as to how salaries were regulated. When the proper stimulation is at hand, there is no group of workers more energetic and interested than those in the granite building.

The following was taken from the Lawrence Telegram. Since Manager Thomas Lees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company has made efforts to stop such practices in the cars in this city it may be of interest.

"The M. A. T. was talking this morning with a person who rides back and forth every day from Lowell to this city. Said person while very much disgusted was amused and at the same time convinced that she had found the champion expectorator of the country round about. It seems that in the two years she has been making the trip back and forth to this city, she has observed that from the time it gets warm enough to open the car windows till cold weather comes on, the men and boy passengers begin to spit out the windows. It is only a habit and a ridiculous and disgusting one, too, for those on the car who cannot help but notice it.

"This morning it seems this particular passenger had one of these expectoration fits in front of her, and by actual count he went through the performance 53 times between Lowell and Lawrence. He should be able to challenge the most time-honored veteran in the art of spitting."

The weather we have always with us as a source of comment and conversation. The weather predictions, too, are a source of never ending joy to those who take the pains to read them regularly and check up the weather as it actually develops with the kind that is promised. For three days last week the bureau predicted unsettled weather, showers and rain. All of the three days were bright and sunny, with hardly the trace of a cloud in the sky. Yesterday we had the prediction of fair and warmer. The fairness and warmth, however, were not noticeably in evidence. This naturally leads to the inquiry as to how often the weather sharps of the government hit the mark with their predictions. In a report issued a while ago the bureau officials claimed that 85 per cent of their predictions are correct. Perhaps they are, but common observation hereabout would seem to indicate otherwise. Whether the bureau's claim is borne out by facts probably depends largely on the point of view. Also, it may be that the bureau officials are somewhat prejudiced as umpires in keeping tabs on the fulfillment of their own predictions. The predictions cover a wide area. Forecasts for "Boston and its vicinity," for instance, apparently cover the territory anywhere within 50 miles of the big city. It may very well be true that when rain is predicted for this area, rain may fall for a short time in some portion of it while it is pleasant in the rest. In such a case the bureau officials would probably score one for a prediction that had come true although the ordinary man or woman might have a different view of the subject.

SEEN AND HEARD

The money minted now is of little value, but the mint beds are of less.

Never put off till tomorrow the thing you can do today, except the purchase of booze.

There seems to be very little difference in Mexico in running and gunning for office.

This back to the country movement might do better if there were chorus girls in the country.

Through all this long period of "moonshine" and "jakey" not one intoxicated person has been seen on a Fletcher street car.

Beaches that stand for one-piece suits should be careful. A small piece doesn't cost as much as a big one and "thrill" is the slogan these days.

Yes, times are pretty good, better than they were when some of us were boys. But how does anybody expect money to get tight in a dry country?

The girl at the soda fountain smiles so sweetly that the most ordinary drink tastes almost as good as the little drink of yesterday—the one with the olive chaser.

Reginald Was Cold

Poorly his wavering feet bore Reginald home. There had been one or two good fellows in the club. Isn't that enough to explain to our enlightened readers why Reginald's feet were wavering?

Into the front garden he staggered and sank to rest, with his head in a bed of daffodils and his feet on the gravel path.

But his wife had been awakened by the noise of his approach. Now she opened a window and shouted wildly: "What's there?"

"Shut that window!" yelled Reginald, crouching from his slumber. "I'm nearly frozen to death now!"

Fanned Up His Farm

John Muller, a farmer at Green-lawn, L. I., sued a moving picture company for $2000 for trespass, because to make a moving picture "All for France," the company invaded his property with 1000 men, horses, machine guns, cannon and a lot of peasantry, and a big airplane scared Muller's horses so that they refused to work. Also, the airplane alighted in the middle of 27 acres of young corn and in trying to fly again gouged the whole length of the field two or three times lengthwise and two or three times crosswise, while the moving picture army trampled Mr. Muller's cabbages. The jury gave him $300 damages.

"Tips on Burns"

The enthusiastic English literary man at Always-on-the-Job had consented to deliver a lecture in the village club on Burns. For weeks beforehand the bill boards were covered with announcements, and when the appointed night came the hall was full to overflowing. He began with "The Cotters' Saturday Night," "Tam-o'-Shanter" and "The Jolly Beggar," and was proceeding with "John Anderson" when there came an interruption from the back of the hall.

"What is it, my man?" inquired the lecturer.

"When are you going to give us a few hints?" came the reply.

"Hints?" repeated the puzzled gentleman.

"Yes, hints," growled the man. "I paid three pence to come in, 'cos you was supposed to know all about Burns, an' there you stand spoutin' poetry like a parrot, while my missus, who's upset a saucepan o' boiling water on 'er foot, is waitin' to hear whether she'd better scouse it w' oil or shake the flour dredger over it!"

On Being a Lady

"I wish I were like Josephine," said little Anne to me.

"I'd like to be as much at ease, 'As lady-like as she."

"She holds her little finger out—'When she is drinking tea!'"

"I'd like to wear a pretty frock 'Like hers, all filled with lace; 'When shabby people pass her by, 'You ought to see her face."

"She says, 'Poor people aren't neat, 'They're always out of place!'"

"She never has to wash a dish, 'Or dust or sweep, or sew— 'But when there is a party on, 'She's always sure to go."

"She says, 'I never help at home, 'It always bres me so!'"

"I wish I were like Josephine," said little Anne, and sighed—

And then she hurried from the room 'For baby brother cried, 'And there were biscuits to be baked, 'And dishes to be dried."

And at her work she sang a song, 'As happy as a queen, 'And as I heard her joyous tones, 'I said—and was I mean?— 'Thank God, that you are little Anne— 'And not like Josephine!"

—Margaret E. Sabatier, in Christian Herald.

$24,595,881

Earnings of International Mercantile Marine Co.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Estimated earnings of the International Mercantile Marine company, for 1919 amounted to $24,595,881, against actual earnings of $17,534,704 in 1918, according to the preliminary report issued for publication today.

Reducing interest on bonds and depreciation on steamers, the latter item amounting to $5,225,664, leaves a net result of $17,100,553, or 15,567,910 increase over 1918.

These figures represent earnings of steamers directly owned by the International Mercantile Marine, together with returns of subsidiaries, which are largely of British ownership.

Earnings so far this year are stated to be under the corresponding period of 1919, due to lower freight rates, labor difficulties and excessive cost of fuel. For the remainder of the year, however, earnings are expected to improve as some of the company's passenger ships have been reconditioned and returned to their routes.

BACCALAUREATE AT ST. ANNE'S CHURCH

Rev. Appleton Granis, rector, preached the baccalaureate sermon to the Rogers Hall school seniors at St. Anne's church Sunday morning. His text for his text, "Where there is no vision, the people perish."

In part, he said:

"What the history of civilization is being told, very large space is given to the men whose deeds we can see. The explorer who has opened up a land to civilization. The ruler who expanded the national boundaries. The inventor through whose skill human needs have been satisfied on an enormous scale. The man of business, through whose foresight of industry a nation has prospered. To all of these, great attention is paid. But quite as important, though not taken note of to the same extent, is the work of the prophet, the poet, the dreamer, the seer those who create ideals and standards those who make us see the permanent and the abiding in life.

"A home is not made by erecting four walls and covering by a roof. A home is spiritual in character. A home is only a home insofar as love and tenderness and sympathy and kindness abide there.

"In all its permanent and abiding phases life is ruled by spiritual forces. The student, bending over his books, looks beyond to a position in life. It is his ideal that gives him courage and perseverance.

"We give altogether too little attention to the consideration of things that are permanent and abiding. In time of disaster, in a time of sadness and sorrow, what is it that supports us, but a great faith in a great God? Without that faith, we could not carry ourselves with confidence through the struggle sure of victory in the end.

"Civilization, some one has said, is not dominion, nor wealth, nor luxury, nor even a great literary educational propaganda widespread, good as all these are. The true sign of civilization is kindness, chivalry, ceaseless devotion to the claims of justice."

"Chief among the books that have helped the world is the Bible, because it is endowed with these great spiritual qualities. It has given us the highest conception of truth and beauty and responsibility. Cut off from the world the vision that the Bible has unfolded, and the loss would be incalculable.

"We speak of a book as inspired because it gives us a deeper insight, a greater love of God, a greater care for women and children. The world needs that kind of vision, such as Charles Dickens has given. Every book of his was written with a purpose, in order that some ideal might be translated into reality. Without these ideals, which our great thinkers have given, can you imagine anything more cold and cheerless and barren than this world would be? It is the religion of Jesus that has inspired men to the service of humanity. It is those who believe most strongly in God and immortality, who have done greatest service for the world. When faith in God dies out, faith in humanity dies at the same time.

"So we all need to keep before us these ideals, in order that our lives may be strong, that there may be a background. One of the things that helps to keep these ideals alive, is the help of rest. It is the duty of every right-minded man and woman to make the one day in seven a day conspicuous for presenting to the world the great ideals of love and chivalry and service that the world is really hungry for.

"Do you suppose the life of Jesus, the ideals for which our civilization is tested, would have compelling power apart from the personality of Jesus? Christianity is being tested now as never before in the history of the world—not by external enemies, but by lofty ideals and principles which he himself has done most to call into existence. The standards by which we are being judged today in our Christian civilization, are the standards which the church itself has ever held aloft.

"You are looking forward to a career, remember that your life will be rich insofar as the ideals of the religion which has made the world rich, are held and cherished by you. Out of faith in God grows faith in man; and out of faith in man grows social service."

ANNUAL CORPUS CHRISTI PROCESSION

The Annual Corpus Christi procession of the Catholic parish of Tewksbury, which was held Sunday afternoon on the O.M.I. novitiate grounds, was carried out in a most beautiful and impressive manner.

Despite the fact that the weather looked threatening throughout the day, at 3 o'clock the procession started down the granite steps of the novitiate building and through the spacious grounds to the grove; thence along the main walk, lined on both sides with beautiful maple trees, which made an appropriate setting for such a ceremony. An altar had been erected in the open air, but owing to the weather the procession moved along to the novitiate chapel where a sermon on the Blessed Eucharist was preached by Rev. John H. Doherty, O.M.I., of the Sacred Heart church, Lowell. Following the sermon, solemn benediction of the most blessed sacrament was given. The officiating clergyman was Rev. John Doherty, O.M.I., with Rev. Eugene Dorgan, O.M.I., deacon and Rev. Henry Burns, O.M.I., sub-deacon. The master of ceremonies was Rev. Robert J. McCoy, O.M.I., pastor of the Tewksbury parish.

The canopy under which the Blessed Sacrament was carried was borne by Edward J. Walsh, James Clancy, Geo. E. McCoy and William Kelley.

The order of the procession was as follows: Cross bearer and acolytes, little girls, little boys, Holy Rosary society, Sisters of the Holy Family, Children of Mary sodality, parish choir, Oblate novices, lay brothers and the celebrant. The Holy Name society marched on both sides of the Blessed Sacrament, forming a guard of honor. A large number of people were present from Lowell and surrounding towns.

NEW PASTOR AT GRACE CHURCH

Rev. Edward C. Downey preached the first sermon of his new pastorate yesterday at the Grace Universalist church, taking for his initial topic, "The Supremacy of Religion." He touched upon the coming presidential primaries and election, and declared it was his belief that the hand of God will be felt in the choice the country is now facing.

The new pastor has not yet changed his residence from Norwood, but plans to do so shortly.

ELECTIONS IN GERMANY

Majority Socialists Win 34 Seats in First Republican Reichstag

BERLIN, June 7.—Majority socialists have been elected to 34 seats in the first republican Reichstag, according to latest reports from the canvass of the vote cast yesterday. Independent socialists will hold 24 seats, the German people's party 23, democrats 14, German nationalists 15, centerists 14, and communists 2.

The approximate aggregate of the votes polled follow:

Majority socialists 2,071,000; Independent socialists, 1,456,000; German people's party, 1,415,000; democrats, 936,000; German nationalists, 915,000; centerists 861,000; communists 158,000.

It is indicated that Mathias Erzberger, former vice chancellor and minister of finance, has been elected from Wurttemberg, and the election of Dr. Karl Helfferich at Hamburg is assured.

In the city of Berlin the latest figures show the Independent Socialists cast by far the largest vote of any of the parties; their total being 459,967, giving them seven seats in the Reichstag. The social democrats by this compilation, polled 185,631 votes, giving them three seats; the German people's party 140,550 votes, two seats; the German National party 112,719 votes, one seat; and the democrats 71,543, one seat.

The prominent Independent Socialist candidates who were victorious in Berlin, include Georg Ledebour; Herr Crispin, Adolph Hoffman, and Louise Seitz.

Of the individual candidates it is known that Count von Bernstorff, former ambassador to the United States, running as a German nationalist, has been defeated.

The following may be considered elected:

German democrats—Herr Von Siemens, Dr. Bernhard Dernburg, former minister for the colonies; Dr. Peterson, Herr Hausmann, Herr Ruschke, Prof. Walter Schuecking.

Majority socialists—Hugo Heimann, Richard Fischer, ex-Chancellor Philipp Scheidemann, Eduard Bernstein, Otto Wels, Dr. Gustav Bauer, present minister of finance.

German people's party—Dr. Karl Helfferich, former vice chancellor; Herr Rieffer, Professor Wilhelm Kaml, Dr. Gustav Stresemann, Herr von Kardoff.

German nationalists—Herr Wulle, Herr Laverenz.

Independent socialists—Karl Fritz Subell, Herr Breischied.

According to the North German Gazette, advice from Stettin, the communists at Polzin destroyed the voting receptacles, which will necessitate another election there. At Hundsburg the voting document were destroyed as the sequel to a quarrel over alleged falsification.

The German election was held under the proportional voting system, under which every 60,000 votes cast by any party gives it one member of the Reichstag.

The present national assembly superseded by the new Reichstag, contains 165 social democrats or majority socialists; 90 members of the center, or clerical party; 75 German democrats, 42 German nationalists, 22 representatives of the German people's party, 22 Independent socialists, and seven representatives of minor parties, a total of 423 members.

BY LOWELL TALENT

EXCEPTIONS OVERRULED

Court Denies Exceptions Taken By Counsel in Murder Case

Exceptions taken by counsel for Francisco Feci of Lawrence, convicted in April, 1919, for murder in the first degree, have been overruled by the supreme court. Feci was tried at Lowell for the murder of Fred Soula at Billerica on October 29, 1918. His counsel were Meyer Sawyer of Boston and John Black of North Adams. District Attorney Nathan A. Tufts prosecuted the case for the government. The exceptions taken at the trial were argued before the supreme court by Attorney Philip Mansfield of Boston and District Attorney Tufts. Feci will probably be sentenced at the coming term of the criminal court, which comes in at East Cambridge, June 14.

Share in First Twenty Billion Marks Gold of Reparation Bonds

PARIS, June 7.—The share of the United States in the first twenty billion marks gold of reparation bonds which Germany is required to issue under the Versailles treaty, will be about $500,000,000, it was stated today.

This sum, it was explained, will be for the first twenty months' occupation of the Rhineland by American troops.

HOW TO WORK THE HOME GARDEN

The following tips on matters pertaining to the garden are from the Middlesex county bureau of agriculture and home economics:

Most home gardens include beans as one of their vegetables. Many home gardeners are familiar with the farmers' practice of not doing a thing to or in among their beans when they are damp. Rust is a fungus disease which spreads very quickly when there is dampness upon the vines. Beans should not be hoed, picked, or one should not work among the beans rows, when they are damp in the morning after the dew or after a rain.

The doctors are telling us that we do not eat sufficient quantity of greens. Spinach is the common green grown in the garden during the spring and late fall.

It does not do well during late summer as the warm weather sends it spindling up to seed. An earlier article suggested New Zealand spinach as a good summer green. This can still be safely planted. Swiss chard is another summer green that can be safely planted at the present time.

Save Fertilizer Around Home

The writer has a neighbor who saves the kitchen garbage and buries it in his garden daily. This is a most excellent practice. It followed up for some length of time the garbage from the home, applied to the garden will very materially increase its fertility. This neighbor also has spaded up a spot where he proposes to have a garden succeeding years. This year he is spending his energy in getting the witch grass under control, and will shortly seed the place with clover, being careful to lime the area well. This clover will be spaded under as a green manure crop. The clover furnishes a large quantity of humus to the soil which practically all back yard gardens crave, and in addition will add a lot of nitrogen to the soil which the clover collects from the air. Nitrogen is the most expensive element in our fertilizers; therefore any plant that will gather this element from the air and add it to the soil in a form which the plant can readily use, is a great friend of the home gardener. Let's see to it that we plant clover in all vacant spots in our garden.

Of the 400,000 Japanese living outside their native land, 130,000 are in the United States.

CELEBRATED HIS FIRST

MASS YESTERDAY

Rev. Felix Tessier who was ordained last Thursday at the Boston cathedral by Rt. Rev. Bishop Anderson, celebrated his first mass at St. Jean Baptiste church yesterday morning.

Assisting Rev. Fr. Tessier were Rev. Augustin Gratton, O.M.I. as deacon and Rev. Aurelien Merle, O.M.I. as sub-deacon, while the master of ceremonies was the pastor, Rev. Eugene Turcotte, O.M.I. The sermon was given by Rev. L. N. Bachand, O.M.I. During the mass which was at 11 o'clock appropriate music was rendered by the regular church choir under the direction of L. N. Gullbault, who also presided at the organ.

At the close of the mass dinner was served to the immediate relatives of the new clergyman at the home of his father, Mr. Edouard Tessier, 233 Cheever street and in attendance were also Rev. Fr. Turcotte, O.M.I. and Rev. Fr. Bachand, O.M.I. Later a reception was held during which a great number of friends extended their congratulations and best wishes. In the evening Rev. Fr. Tessier officiated at the vespers at St. Jean Baptiste church, the service being followed by the Corpus Christi procession. This morning Rev. Fr. Tessier celebrated mass at the O.M.I. novitiate in Tewksbury.

Rev. Fr. Tessier was born at St. Felix de Valois, Que., 29 years ago, but came to this city while a boy. His early studies were made at St. Joseph's college, this city, while his classical course was followed at the Assumptionist college, L'Assomption, Que. He studied theology at the seminary of Montreal and completed his studies at St. John's seminary, Brighton. The members of his family are his father, Mr. Edouard Tessier of 233 Cheever st., four brothers and three sisters, Messrs. Jean, Louis and Romeo of this city; Miss Lucie Tessier of Sherbrooke, Que., and Rev. Sister Marguerite-Marie of Manchester, N. H., both of the order of the Sisters of Charity of Sherbrooke, Que.

INCREASE IN WAGES

The new scales of wages for the Lowell carpenters and mill men went into effect June 1, and the craftsmen received their first pay under the new arrangement last Saturday. The carpenters were granted an increase of 10 cents per hour, making their minimum wage $1 an hour, while the mill men received increases of 15 and 20 cents an hour, making their scale of wages 75 and 90 cents an hour.

WOMAN KILLS HERSELF

Suicide by Gas Nearly Caused the Deaths of Several Other Members of Family

EVERETT, June 7.—The suicide of Mrs. Walleriza Dozladowicz nearly caused the deaths of several other members of her family today. Gas from a tube which she had placed in her mouth while she lay in bed escaped and overcame an eight-year-old daughter, who slept with her, two sons, who were in a bed in the same room and her husband, Joseph Dozladowicz, and an infant son, who were in an adjoining room. Although the condition of the daughter and two sons was expected to be serious, their recovery was rapid.

Making New Citizens

There were 250 names on the list of applicants for final citizenship papers who had been notified to be present. A considerable part of these were present with their witnesses and the crowd that filled all of the seats reserved for the public overflowed out into the corridors.

The process of making new citizens went forward without serious hitch. There was some delay in weeding the candidates for citizenship out of the crowd in attendance when their names were called. Once the applicants lined up before the judge and examiner, however, they were made citizens at the average rate of one every five minutes.

A considerable number of those naturalized gave up their allegiance to King George V. of Great Britain. There were also many persons from Russia, Poland, Austria, and Greece, given their final papers. The subjects of Great Britain who renounced their former allegiance were mainly born in Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and the Province of Quebec.

A few of the cases were continued, that the applicants might have an opportunity for additional study. It is expected the court will be continued tomorrow.

WINNERS IN FINAL WEEK OF TOURNEY

The handicap bowling tournament which had been in progress for seven weeks at the Crescent alleys was brought to a close on Saturday night, with the awarding of prizes for the final week, and the special prize covering the two weeks' extension period.

The tourney will be recorded in local bowling circles as one of the most successful in the history of the alley game.
Charles Brigham won first prize in the individual rolling with a total of 146. Harral was second with 141. Lindsey and Dr. Hewson won the two-men prize, with 678. The three-men prize went to Brigham, Buckley and Schomberg, with 1009. Gendron, Sullivan, O'Brien, McDermott and Planders landed the five-men honors with a total of 1617.
The complete figures of those winning prizes:
Individual—Brigham, 141; Harral, 141; Dr. Hewson and Sullivan, tied at 133; Grady and Hayden tied at 130.
Two-men—Lindsey and Dr. Hewson, 678; Schomberg and Myrick, 671; Estes and Myrick, 663.
Three-men—Brigham, Buckley and Schomberg, 1009; Gendron, McDermott and Planders, 991; Ellis, Harral and Hosmer, 983; Concanon, Lebrun and Myrick, 961.
Five-men—Gendron, Sullivan, McDermott, O'Brien and Planders, 1617; Sweeney, Concanon, Perrin, Estes and Myrick, 1606; Myrick, Flynn, Sweeney, Donohoe and Estes, 1585; Myrick, Planders, Jewett, Johnson and Donohoe, 1576.
Dr. Hewson won the special tournament prize, with a score of 331.

NEW HOTEL WILL COST $800,000

The proposed new Harrisonia hotel in Middle street will cost $800,000, according to an estimate filed with the inspector of buildings at city hall. A permit for the erection of the building has just been granted. The architects of the building will be O'Connell & Shaw, and the builder, the E. A. Abbott Co. of Boston. The building will consist of ten stories and will be 110 feet in height of concrete and steel construction.

The Johnson-Borah irreconcilables have a plank of their own ready to submit. If the platform conference does not yield a result acceptable to them, but they indicated confidence today that no open fight by them would be necessary.
The mild reservationists are dissatisfied with the plank under consideration in the platform conference because it would have the force, they say, of merely declaring against the League covenant as contained in the treaty of Versailles. They want an affirmative declaration for ratification of the treaty with safeguarding reservations.

Wood Forces for Beveridge
In the fight over permanent organization, the Wood forces will throw at least some of their strength for Senator Beveridge.

"I am for Senator Beveridge," said Frank H. Hitchcock today, "and I would have been for him even though he had not been instructed by his state for Gen. Wood. I have reason to believe that Senator Beveridge is highly regarded in other camps."

Johnson Mass Meeting
Senator Johnson's mass meeting tonight by which his supporters hope to throw his campaign forcibly upon the attention of the national convention will be addressed also by Senator Borah. The California candidate is expected to deal with various topics in controversy before the convention, including the League of Nations and the methods of selecting delegates from the south.

The scramble for convention tickets began today with their distribution through members of the national committee and the local arrangements committee. Bales of the pasteboards and accompanying badges and souvenirs were given out at a hotel, and there was a stampede of committeemen. The seats were allotted according to the proportionate representation of each state in the convention.
Miss Gaston Withdraws
Lucy Page Gaston, the only woman entrant in the presidential race, announced today that her name would not be presented to the convention. She said she had withdrawn in favor of anybody "who will endorse the moral reforms for which I stand."
Miss Gaston Entered the South Dakota Primaries on a Platform
Miss Gaston entered the South Dakota primaries on a platform which included an anti-cigarette plank, unadulterated food and "clean morals."

Penrose Keeps Posted
Although kept away by illness, Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, a conspicuous figure for years in national conventions is closely in touch with developments here, and constantly is advising his lieutenants. There is a telephone line direct from the senator's house in Philadelphia to the headquarters here for the delegation.
Regret over the enforced absence of the Pennsylvania leader was expressed today by Chairman Hays of the national committee.

Fight Over League Plank
There were indications today that a League of Nations plank, over which one of the bitterest convention fights had been predicted, might soon be given the approval of all the leaders except a small group of mild reservationists.

BOXING TO BE RESUMED HERE NEXT SATURDAY

After a lay-off of several weeks, boxing is to be resumed here on next Saturday afternoon when the first special show of the season will be staged at Spalding park.

In arranging for the "openers" the Crescent A.A. has signed up Phinney Boyle of Lowell and Johnny Downes of South Boston to meet in a 12-round bout for a decision, the weight to be 125 pounds.
In securing this pair the local matchmaker has tied up one of the best attractions in New England. Boyle has been traveling at a terrific clip since he staged his remarkable come back against Frankie Britt, the really best Brit, and should be now the holder of the New England lightweight title. Since then he has beaten Jimmy Duffy of New York, Nick Smiler of New York, and Charley Parker of Boston, and has the shade on Billy De Foe, but an agreement between the men entered the ring tonight has a draw decision. He has been training ever since and his manager today stated that he is in great condition. Boyle aspires to the title, and in meeting Downes he realizes that he will face one of the most dangerous contenders.
Downes made a very favorable impression in the 12th time he showed here and since has engaged in three victorious bouts. He, too, is after the title and in fact he now claims that his victory over Harry Carlson entitles him to nose as the champ. Downes' most recent successes have been victories over Billy de Foe and Nick Michaels.
There will be three other bouts.

RESOLUTE AND VANITIE TRIALS

NEWPORT, R. I., June 7.—A 10 knot breeze was sweeping across lower Narragansett Bay today when Resolute, with a new mast, and Vanitie, with a somewhat impatient crew, made sail for the second of their trial races to determine the defender of the America's cup.
Resolute appeared improved by her overhauling at Bristol last week and Manager Emmons said before the race that he thought further changes in the yacht would not be necessary because of accident.
The Yacht committee planned a triangular course today which just before the start, looked like two reaches and a beat to the finish. The weather was clear with the skies somewhat overcast.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Barclay A. C. defeated the Ewars last Thursday by the score of 10 to 9. The winners are traveling along at top speed and would like games with 14 or 15-year-old teams, the Pawtucketville Blues preferred. Answer through this paper.

The Jolly Crowd challenges the Braves or Helvidere Tigers for a game at Lincoln park.

The Cardinals will play the Unity A. C. a twilight game on the South common tomorrow evening at 6:30 o'clock. Also games are wanted with the St. Peter's S.S. or other 16 or 15-year-old teams. Answer through this paper.

All at Sea on Convention Eve

amounted to little more than one-fourth of the total delegate strength on the first ballot, and it takes a majority to nominate.

With prospects of a deadlock thus becoming better hourly, favoring sons and dark horse possibilities increased their activities and further tangled the knotted reins of control for which the party leaders are wrestling. The outlook helped, too, to enliven the squabbling over contested convention seats and the struggle over permanent organization of the convention. At least some and possibly all, of the 137 contests decided by the national committee will be brought before the credentials committee for a rehearing and a few may be decided finally on the convention floor itself.
For Permanent Chairman
Realizing the power which might be wielded by a friendly staff of permanent convention officials, the managers for all the candidates are studying carefully before they jump one way or the other in the choice of a permanent chairman. Senator McCormick of Illinois, and former Senator Beveridge of Indiana, are most prominently mentioned for the chairmanship, but the strength behind neither has yet become clearly defined and a choice may be postponed until the last minute.
If the outlook over candidates and organization is uncertain, most of the leaders agree that the situation as regards platform, at least, is beginning to take form. Only a few of the more troublesome planks remain to be agreed on, and although some sharp struggles are in prospect, no one seems to think that any of them will lead to serious consequences.

Fight Over League Plank
There were indications today that a League of Nations plank, over which one of the bitterest convention fights had been predicted, might soon be given the approval of all the leaders except a small group of mild reservationists.

To you, as to thousands of smokers all over the nation, Camels expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos is a revelation! You will prefer Camels blend to either kind of tobacco smoked straight!

You never puffed such refreshing flavor from a cigarette as Camels so lavishly hand out; you never enjoyed such smooth mellow mildness with such generous body! And, besides Camels never leave any unpleasant cigaretty aftertaste or unpleasant cigaretty odor!

Our confidence is so great that you will like Camels better than any cigarette you ever smoked that we put it this way: Compare Camels with any cigarette in the world at any price!

aldermanic chamber at city hall, shortly before noon today.

Inasmuch as the council was not assembled in formal session, no definite action was taken on the matter, but it will probably be considered at tomorrow's regular weekly meeting.

Accompanying Mr. Finnegan in his mission of presenting the case of the laborers were Daniel Moynihan, Thomas McCaffrey and Timothy O'Rourke, representing the grievance committee of the union. Mr. O'Rourke being also vice president of the Lowell Trades and Labor council; Fred Laraway of the grievance committee of the Trades and Labor council, and Michael P. Regan, president of the Teamsters' union and also a member of the Trades and Labor council.

This morning's conference was the upshot of a meeting of the municipal employees' union held yesterday afternoon, at which Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy of the street department was present. At that meeting, President Finnegan made the statement that if Commissioner Murphy would present an order for $10,000 to the municipal council to cover an increase for members of his department to $5 a day, it would be passed without difficulty. This morning, it was brought out that Commissioner Donnelly, Marchand and Salmon had promised Mr. Finnegan to vote for the money if the $5 wage were recommended to them by Commissioner Murphy.

Conference in Detail

The conference was called at 11:15 with all members of the municipal council present.
Commissioner Murphy, who presided, said that at yesterday's meeting of the Municipal Employees' union he told of the wages being paid men doing similar work for private corporations and also for other municipalities. He offered an increase of 25 cents per day, he said, but the men wanted 50 because they thought by accepting 25 cents now they would not be able to get 50 later on. President Finnegan made the statement, Mr. Murphy said, that members of the city council would vote for a budget to allow a 50-cent increase and that if an order for $10,000 were introduced, it would be passed.

President Finnegan was then introduced and he dwelt at length on the cost of living in the past few years.

"We have the name of getting $4.50 a day," he said, "but we're not getting $20 a week on account of the days off due to rainy weather. I don't believe that there have been more than three weeks since the first of January that we received a full week's pay. My men have been very patient since we first put in our petition for $5 a day at the beginning of the year but now the time has come when we must do something. I approached the commissioners and asked them to vote for more money because I felt it my duty to do so."

Mayor Thompson asked Mr. Finnegan what assurance he had that members of the municipal council would vote money for a $5 a day wage. Mr. Finnegan said that point would "come out later."

The mayor then asked if arrangements were made to pay men for rainy weather, would the other members of the union who do not suffer from such loss of pay want an increase also.

Mr. Finnegan said that he would have to bring that question before the union before he could answer it.
At this point, President Regan of the Teamsters' union arose and said that the other members would not be satisfied with such an arrangement.

Mayor Thompson: "Then what you really want is a flat increase?"
President Finnegan: "Yes."
Commissioner Marchand and Commissioner Donnelly said that they had promised Mr. Finnegan that they would support Commissioner Murphy in whatever recommendations he made concerning wage increases in his department, but they thought the matter should be decided by him. Commissioner Salmon said that he would back up Commissioner Murphy, but that he certainly could not grant $5 a day to the men in the water department.

Fred Laraway, representing the Trades and Labor Council, said that while city employees had received only 100 per cent. increase since 1915 the cost of living had advanced from 300 to 500 per cent. and that there was no prospect of an immediate decrease.
Timothy O'Rourke reviewed the hearing given by the council early in the year on the petition for $5 a day and said that there was not a single remonstrant at that time.

Mr. Regan said that the increase was not being asked alone for the street department but for all departments. Mr. Moynihan also spoke briefly in favor of the increase.

IN POLICE COURT

Boy Wanted a Little More Spending Money

A 17-year-old boy was arrested Saturday night as a suspicious character. He testified in police court today, that he did not go home to his parents that night because he has been working for two years and getting $15 per week, but has never got more than a nickel a week from his father. The court ordered the boy placed in the care of the probation officer, who was instructed to send for the father and make arrangements for a more liberal allowance.

STUCK BY AUTOMOBILE

Last evening about 5 o'clock Arthur J. Roy of 418 Moody street reports that his auto struck Belas Nickalopolous of 129 Market street. The injured youngster, who is seven years old, was taken to the Lowell Corporation hospital, where the injury was not found to be serious. Roy reported the accident to the police.

MORE LOWELL MEN JOIN THE NAVY

Chief Joseph Crepeau, now in charge of the navy recruiting station here sent two men to Boston today as recruits for service on the seas. Joseph Montes of 15 Charles street went down as an apprentice seaman for ship's cook. Charles Plunkett of 41 Ludlum street went down as an apprentice seaman also. Plunkett is the first 17-year-old man to be enlisted locally since the new age law went into effect and he will have to remain in the service until he becomes 21 years of age. When the 17-year-old law was in force last year Plunkett was desirous of enlisting, but circumstances at that time prevented him. He went down today with his parents' consent.

SEEKS TO INCREASE ITS MEMBERSHIP

In an endeavor to increase its membership, the Amalgamated Woolen and Wearing Apparel Union held an open meeting in Odd Fellows' hall, Middlesex street, yesterday afternoon. The meeting was presided over by Michael Casey, president of the organization, and the speakers were General Organizer A. J. Muste of New York, C. W. Blanchard and James Dick of Nashville, Conn. In the course of the meeting it was stated that the local union has now a membership of over 200, and without exception every member of the union was formerly connected with the American Federation of Labor.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, June 7.—Reactionary were uppermost at the beginning of the week in the stock market. Further unsatisfactory local conditions, the political situation, the political situation, and the probability of several important decisions by the United States supreme court in the course of the day were regarded as deterrent factors. The price of the steel, equipment, oil, and other specialties, the American Copper, Chandler Motor and American Copper were among the firm strong issues.

The oil and coal stock dividends declared on Pan-American and Mexican Petroleum were not especially helpful to those shares. The action of the market was discouraged. Shipping having been featured before noon, the market rallied. The price of the steel, equipment, oil, and other specialties, the American Copper, Chandler Motor and American Copper were among the firm strong issues.

An advance in call money to 8 per cent. and the supreme court prohibition decision, gave the general list an irregular setback in the final hour. The closing was heavy.

The meeting of the board was held in the chamber headquarters in Merrimack square at 12.30 o'clock, with President W. N. Goodell presiding.

Action was taken upon the proposed members' assembly to be held in Memorial hall on Tuesday evening, June 22, with a dinner at 6.30 o'clock, followed by an address by George Dugan of Albany, N. Y., favorably remembered as a speaker at the re-organization banquet some months ago.

Secretary Manager George F. Wells will give a report of the activities of the organization up to date. This will be followed by discussion in five-minute periods of matters which, in the opinion of the members, should be taken up by the chamber. It is proposed to hold such assemblies of members monthly, beginning in the fall.

A communication from the city board of assessors, suggesting a conference with a committee on the chamber relative to the valuation of property in Lowell was read and referred to the committee on municipal affairs. The conference will be arranged for the earliest possible date.

The board also heard a communication from Postmaster John P. Meehan, requesting the co-operation of the chamber in establishing a sub-post-office in Merrimack square. This matter was referred to a committee composed of Robert F. Marden and Abel R. Campbell.

STEERS CREATE PANIC ON SHIP

Stampeded, Ran Up and Then Jumped Overboard

Many Become Prey of Sharks Which Infest Waters Off Morro Castle

HAVANA, June 7.—Hundreds of steers stampeded on board the American steamer St. Charles outside of Havana harbor Saturday afternoon and after creating a panic on board, plunged into the sea, where they became the prey of the sharks which infest the waters off Morro Castle. Except for a few that swam ashore, all of the 600 steers on the vessel, are believed to have perished.

Sanitary officers who inspected the vessel on her arrival Saturday, were alarmed when they found 130 dead steers in the hold of the ship. They ordered the captain to put to sea and throw the carcasses overboard. While the crew was engaged in this task, the steers on board stampeded. Frightened animals ran up and down the decks and then plunged overboard, where the tigers of the deep were awaiting them.

Tags sent out to the St. Charles showed the crew virtually paralyzed with terror. It is reported only 50 carcasses have been removed from the ship, and harbor authorities are finding much difficulty in securing men to enter the hold of the steamer to complete the task of clearing the St. Charles of its menacing cargo.

DO YOU WEIGH AS MUCH AS YOU OUGHT?

How Many Thin People Build Themselves Up To Normal Standards

Do you realize that unless your weight is up to normal you are actually in danger of serious illness? No better proof of this is needed than the fact that the insurance companies which forbid the issuance of insurance to those who are underweight.

Many thin people find that they gain weight steadily while taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The pure food elements which are contained in this old-fashioned prescription, strengthen and build up those who are thin, weak and run down. It is a real food and a tonic which even the most fastidious can easily take up—Adv.

follow. Capt. Ford again will recruit his company of soldiers; Thilrose Thornton will enter as an Acadian exile and Molly Varum and groups of Colonial boys and girls will romp, play and dance.

The prologue begins with the entrance of a Pilgrim Spirit, Harold Nickerson, who looks curiously around and calls for the Spirit of Lowell, portrayed by Miss Helen Osgood. She enters with her attendants, Art. Science, Spindle and Water, represented respectively by Misses Margaret Dugan, Catherine Coleman, Doris Shumway, and Marion Sewell. Lowell as she enters, look around for the one who has called her. When she sees him she goes forward with her attendants. Pilgrim says that Pilgrims and many others for generations have worshipped two great spirits—Liberty and Love, and as he returns to his land he loves in Lowell as in the cities of New England, the workers of a community stand under the guidance of these spirits. He sees, too, that there is another spirit necessary to make the city's great population happy and to make for a better city. The Pilgrim charges Lowell to seek this spirit and guide her people to it. Lowell arises and calls on Hope.

Hope (Miss Dorothy Fryer) enters, later followed by the spirits of Future and Youth (Miss Beryl Frand and Miss Katherine McDonald). Youth, in turn, is followed by Progress (Miss Anna Kolanink); Courage (Miss Bernice Flynn); Fraternity (Miss Ada Conway); Vision (Miss Mildred McNabb); and Folly (Miss Florence Brooks). Lowell is perplexed because she does not find the spirit for which she looks. Youth says it must be Liberty. Liberty, portrayed by Miss Ruth Richter, comes in, but still Lowell is not quite satisfied, and says she will await the entrance of Childhood, Miss Margaret McAdams.

MERRIMACK SQ. THEATRE

(Misses Margaret Smith and Evelyn Photoplace) enter to the sound of music. Youth says surely the spirit of Lowell has found what she wants, but Lowell says no. Childhood says there are more with whom she plays and subsequently calls upon Autumn, with harvests and leaves; Winter, with snowflakes and frost; Spring, with rain and flowers; Summer, with birds, butterflies, rainbows and sunshine.

Autumn is portrayed by Miss Mary Conney, with the following girls as leaves: Bessie Clark, Hazel Corners, Annabelle Perry, Catherine Sullivan, Anna Cavanaugh, Dorothy Kerrigan, Lucy Sayball, Alice Smith, Louise Spillane, Esther Whiting, Gertrude Henderson, Claire Russell, Alice Bassett, Mary Bassett, Elsie Rutledge, Ruth Tompkins, Myrtle Bigelow and Beatrice Lacourt.

Winter, portrayed by Miss Helen Dick, is followed by the following girls as Snowflakes: Helen Tarr, Margaret Gendron, Elizabeth Daly, Katherine Brophy, Adele Grech, Dinah Vlasov, Doris McCaffrey, Dorothy Rowlands, Nellie Fulton, Helen Donoghue, Marjorie Greenwood, Hazel Nichol, Ellen Darragan, Gladys Hood, Ellen Wholey, Lucella Cook, Winifred McCready and Bluse Lacourt.

Spring, Miss Marion Quinn, has the following attendants as Flowers: Helen Sullivan, Helen Green, Estella Miller, Edna Bigelow, Esther Sharp, Gilbert Roy, Grace Harrington, Elizabeth Lambert, Frances Carmichael, Ruth Patonau, Mildred Johnson, Estelle Laurin, Dorcas McGee, Eunice McGee, Mary Murdock, Beatrice Breton, Esther Brennan and Mary Doran.

Miss Marion Beverly as Summer is followed by the following girls as Butterflies: Annabelle Virtue, Helen Daley, Florida Lachance, Lillian Walsh, Ann Sullivan, Muriel Fulton, Erolaine Cholebas, Dorothy McNeault, Doris Sabourin, Lorinda Holmes, Gertrude Spillane, Louise Danouche, Gertrude Donahue, Annette Poirer, Gladys Fulton, Agnes Baxter and Doris Lecourt.

The spirit of Lowell watches the dance of the Seasons, but shakes her head, still dissatisfied. The spirit of Love, Miss Elizabeth Kelley, comes in and is joined by Liberty. Together they disappear and come back again with the spirit of Unity. This is the spirit Lowell seeks and the prologue ends.

First Episode

The first episode is of Indian Days and will be taken over entirely by the Lowell Post, American Legion. The principal characters are: Passaconaway, John J. Walsh; Wannanancit, Jas. Georgan, John Elliot, J. P. McLaughlin; Capt. Goodson, John O'Grady.

Indian Maidens include: Molly Washburn, Leland Hedgeson, Laura Derosa, Alice Palmer, Rubina Lawless, Eva Harrison, Mildred Buzzell, Elizabeth Croxley, Blanche Reid, Katherine Kelly, Rose Roslier, Edith Kotzen, Bertha Lovine, Evelyn Rosenfeld, Eva Marmer, Frances Carr, Miriam Mazur, Anna Lebovitz, Nellie Roslier, Dora Coher, Anna Cobb, Pearl Weiner, Vivian James, Elizabeth Buzzell, Dorothy Bainbridge and Effie James.

The episode begins with the coming of the Indians to their old camp grounds at Wameit. They bring canoes laden with hunting trophies from the river. Following Passaconaway and his warriors, come the squaws with their men and greetings and followed by the peace pipe ceremony. Passaconaway departs and Wannanancit is conducted by the preacher. From the distances come an Indian war cry and a full war paint. A snake dance comes next and Wannanancit departs.

Second Episode

Colonial and Revolutionary days take up the second episode, which has the following principal characters: Molly Varum, Selva Coburn; J. B. Varum, J. B. V. Coburn; Thilrose Fraxhorth, Mrs. Nellie Roberts; Mandlin Fraxhorth, Helen Evelette; Captain Ford, Henry H. Harris.

The domestic life of that period is shown, with the children at play and the games of the time, including stomp ball, dancing and minuets. Thilrose Fraxhorth, with her daughter, come from Acadia, singing quaint Catholic mission songs. Later in the episode Capt. Ford recruits his company of soldiers and they depart, showing the women and children working and spinning.

Third Episode

The third episode will show Lowell developing. First come a group of men—the proprietors of the Locks and Canals, Kirk Boot, Roland Black; William Appleton, Willard Parker, and Dr. Edson. Rev. A. W. Shaw, who arrive in a chaise to buy up the water power and enter into negotiations with the farmers.

Prominent in this episode is President Jackson's visit to Lowell in 1833. It was a gala day and will be faithfully portrayed. The character of President Jackson will be played by Victor Carey; Mayor Lawrence, who welcomes him, Percy J. Wilson; ladies, Miss Louise Mahoney and Miss Ethel Enright; marshals, Joseph Molloy and Murray Cummings; Lucy Larcom, Miss Agnes Jeyes. Mill girls who march in parade in President Jackson's honor, are the following named: Esther Bourke, Catherine Fitzgerald, Agnes Foley, Alice Coyne, Eva Hamelin, Lena Hamella, Blanche Melancon, Helen McAnnon, Lillian Campbell, Esther McCann, Ruth Conney, Mary Reagan, Margaret McAnnon, Bessie Belinsky, Della Catty, Nellie Catty, Laura Edwards, Mae O'Leary, Blanche Gagnon, Mae Hewson, Agnes Larassur, Yvonne Perrault, Eva Daigle, Theresa Slattery, Anna Egan, Anna Kierce, Harriet Riley, Bertha Lawson, Rhoda Wilkinson, Hazel Wilkinson, Helen Lator, Rosa O'Brien, Anna Foley, Ethel Dixon, Annie Recan, Yvonne Garpy, Blanche Bergeron, Blanche Taylor, Grace Butcher, Helen Kelley.

The Candle Light hall, held twice a year in older days at the old Stone house in Pawtucket street, with "Lighting Up" in September and the "Blowing Out" in March, will be portrayed by members of the Lowell College club. These balls were wonderful social events and largely attended, even though the admission tickets sold for 50¢.

The spirit of the dance will be Miss Victoria Jenkinson, while the participants in the ball will be the following: Misses Beth Harrison, Edna Laurin, Amy French, Ruth Walker, Rose Portlock, Mary Haggerty, Mary Humphreys, Gertrude Fay, Verda Leach, Anna Armstrong, Marion Leadbetter, Hazel Cameron, Margaret Doherty, Mildred Anderson, Gertrude Lewis, Marion Durand, Martha Gallagher, Marie Reynolds, Ellen Green and Florence McKewin. Messrs. Sterling Pratt, Edward Bell, Ray Crowley, Maurice Lawler, Alde Bourgeois, Franklin Trull, Howard Donohue, William McCann, Howard Bourgeois, Robert Watson, Harold Bowen, J. J. Sullivan, George Stuart, Theodore Parthenos, Herman Parent, John McLaughlin, Stanley Griffin, George A. Gagan, Raymond Reynolds, Douglas Walker, Francis Saunders, Richard Chase, Ray Donovan, William Thompson.

The Girls' Community Service club, under whose auspices the pageant was planned, will give a symbolic representation of the manufacture of cotton, including the processes of picking, carding, spinning and weaving. Participants in the cotton dance include: Ruth Bessner, Mary Livingston, Elizabeth Knowles, Evelyn Carr, Kathleen Murphy, Ruth Bixby, Ruth Harris, Dorothy Colby, Helen Craig, Gladys Sawry, Myrtle Green, Mildred Addams, Elizabeth Green, Annie Angus, Elizabeth McHarg, Beatrice Newhall, Viola Stys, Mary Sullivan, Lillian Salmonson, Sadie Toohy, Mary Vance, Anna Quinn, Lillian Blessington, Lillian Powers, Helen Powers, Mary Somers, Esther Gallagher, Marion Knutson, Frances Sharkey, Flora Chizian, Frances Sharkey, Lilla Genest, Helen Stafford, Ruth Dalton, Clara Dalton, Emily Kozienka, Dorothy Ryan, Frieda Kenney, Gertrude McCrossan, Margaret McCrossan, Margaret Price, Florence Seton, Jeannette Kennedy, Emily Lowney, Doris Dempsey, Theresa Smith, Lillian Renaud, Helen Smith, Anna Kennedy, Sadie Melancon, Alice Corran, Catherine Harrington, Dorothy Nelson, Ellen Norman, Doris Aitken, Hazel King, Laura Boudreau, Helen Tuttle, Rose Hedburg, Bertha Bron, Helen Constantin, Flora Marshall, Mary McCarthy, Amy Mosher, Harriet Myhr, Elsie Hagan, Anna Dufresne, Lillian Regan, Elsie Shaw, Hazel Ramus, Irene Adams, Joseph Komieczna.

Fourth Episode

The era of the Civil war is covered in the fourth episode, which is in the hands of the O.M.I. Cadets and C.Y.M.L. The Old Sixth Massachusetts regiment again will draw recruits from Lowell and the historical facts of those stirring times will be vividly shown.

Gen. Benjamin Butler, played by John J. O'Tourke; Mayor Peabody, played by Frank K. Stearns and his staff, including William W. Dennett, Arthur N. Whitcomb, James P. Conway and William Boland, will take prominent roles in this episode. Gen. Butler's return will be the subject of a big celebration for young and old alike.

Soldier parts will be played by Alfred Burns, Frank Gargan, Samuel O'Neil, Lester Robinson, John O'Brien, Frank O'Brien, Terrance Higgins, William Horgan, Albert Leith, Arthur Conroy, Hubert McQuade, C. O'Donnell, Joseph Busby, Frank Leary and William O'Dea.

Representing the Grand Army of the Republic will be Commander Dudley L. Page, Post 42; Commander F. B. Flanders, Post 120, and Commander Franklin S. Pevey, Post 153.

John Lavin, Patrick Sullivan, William Keefe and Dennis Shanahan will appear as children of the times, with the following girls from the V.W.C.A.: Gladys Ingram, Nellie Clapston, Marion McCloy, Mary Marsh, Julia Stafford, Margaret Sears, Sophia Simmons, Olive Hamblett, Marion Carleton, Mrs. Margaret Craig, Helen Phillips, Nellie Bartlett, Mildred Wolton, Helen Cronin, Loretta Kelley, Lottie Trevos, Ruth Shea and Harriet Bennett.

In a spirited fife and drum corps will be: Robert J. Leith, William McCarthy, Joseph Buckley, Raymond Booth, Sylvester O'Toole, Thomas Dignan, Arthur McQuade, Joseph Craven, Henry Booth, John Craven and William Robinson.

Fifth Episode

Lowell of today will be shown in the fifth and final episode. Two heralds enter and blow their trumpets. The spirit of Lowell appears in the background and heralds come to escort in the many nationalities of the community.

The spirit of America, Miss Mary Holden, enters and asks Lowell what she did for the world war. Lowell says she will show her.

Entrance of nations represented in Lowell. This is in form of a parade, each nation making their own display as unique and characteristic as

Galveston Under Martial Law

AUSTIN, Tex., June 7.—Galveston was placed under martial law, effective at noon today, in a proclamation issued by Governor W. P. Hobby, because of freight congestion there, resulting from a strike of longshoremen.

Five Killed by Explosion at Kent, Ohio

CLEVELAND, June 7.—A telephone message from Kent, Ohio, says five persons are reported dead and many hurt in an explosion in the plant of the Mason Tire & Rubber Co. Fire is sweeping the plant and a company of the Akron fire department has gone to Kent in response to an appeal for aid.

Apology for Burning British Flag

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Secretary Colby on behalf of the American government has rendered a verbal apology to the British ambassador for the burning of a British flag here last week by Irish women. Mr. Colby said this action had been taken pending receipt of an official report on the incident which the District of Columbia authorities have been asked to submit. When this report is in hand a formal apology probably will be made to the British government.

possible. After each group performs, they are placed on the stage by the heralds, the next group is brought in, etc., until all have performed and are left on the stage with each nation's flag unfurled.

Then paraded Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Red Cross nurses and others whom we may have—who also remain in the picture. Then Love, Liberty and Unity appear in the background. Then a rousing march and the girls who make the big flag. At the opening of this all other flags are furled. A sailor and a soldier, John V. Cahill and Charles Barton, come on either side of Lowell in the picture, and all sing "The Star Spangled Banner" to bring the pageant to a close.

THREE AMERICANS ELIMINATED

MURFIELD, Scotland, June 7.—Three of the American golfers entered in the English amateur championship tournament which began here today were eliminated in the opening round. Eben M. Byers of Pittsburgh, United States champion in 1905, was defeated by G. C. Manford, Lathness, 3 and 4; G. H. Walker of St. Louis, lost to A. R. Phillips, Porterspark, 3 and 2; and D. W. Smith, County Down, defeated Findlay S. Douglas of New York, United States champion in 1895, by a score of 3 up and 2 to play.
